Chinese Hordes Drive On Toward New U. N. Line

Truman's Policy For Security Of World Outlined

Defense Of Western Europe Seen As Key To World Security

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Truman today has directed that American military and foreign policy be centered on defense of Western Europe as the vital key to security of the free world.

The critical military situation in Korea will not change this basic U. S. policy.

Mr. Truman has made this decision after a complete review of U. S. foreign policy with his top diplomatic and military advisers.

The White House policy huddles came immediately after Red China's invasion of Korea in overwhelming force which placed U. S. and UN forces in dire peril.

Frontier Against Aggression
President Truman's policy remains that America's frontier against Communist aggression still is Germany.

The American policy is:
1. The turn of events in Korea makes the United States firmer in its determination to center in western Europe its strategy of defense against Communist aggression.

2. The United States is determined not to be drawn into a long, all-out war with China that would exhaust its manpower and resources. To do so would play directly into the hands of Soviet Russia.

3. The U. S. will not withdraw from Korea itself, however, and is prepared for a lengthy and bitter campaign for Korean freedom, although the possibility exists that Red Chinese armies may force evacuation of United Nations troops.

Will Speed Up
4. The United States will step up immediately its defense preparations to increase the flow of armaments to rearm the North Atlantic Pact nations.

5. U. S. mobilization will be speeded.

6. The president will not relinquish his control as the sole arbiter on use of the atom bomb despite efforts from abroad to persuade

President Warns U.S. Youth Military Service Necessary

By FELIX COTTEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Truman warned today that the Chinese communist invasion of Korea raises the threat of a third world war and that American youth must prepare for military service to insure the survival of the United States.

The president discussed the war crisis and the communist menace in an address before the mid-century White House conference on children and youth at the National Guard armory in Washington.

He said "all of us are aware of the grave risk of general conflict which has been deliberately caused by the Chinese communist leaders."

The president added:
"Their action greatly changes the immediate situation with which we are confronted. It does not

Jet Planes Take Large Toll Of Chinese Reds

WITH U. S. EIGHTH ARMY TROOPS IN WESTERN KOREA, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Jet planes from the Fifth Air Force choked the Taedong river with the bodies of more than 2,000 Chinese Reds today but some of the enemy escaped the slaughter to begin occupying Pyongyang.

Most of the Chinese were killed while attempting to ford the river a few hundred yards from Pyongyang proper. Others were killed in the flatlands to the south of the city as they pushed a mile and a half below the town to occupy the Pyongyang airstrip.

First Lt. Jesse Greene, Gainesville, Fla., reported:
"Our target area looked like the crowd leaving a big football game. I would say conservatively that we killed between 300 and 400."

Green was talking exclusively of his own flight of F-80s. There were other flights to raise the total.

First Lt. Raymond Waski, Las Vegas, Nev., added:
"I've never seen so many enemy troops in this war."

The Chinese were apparently striving to strike United Nations troops before they are able to complete a new line of defense south of Pyongyang.

May Evacuate Some Troops By Sea And Air

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Military spokesmen announced today that Chinese Communists have cut the main highway and may have reached the sea between Korea's big east coast ports of Hungnam and Wonsan.

He said the Chinese reached the coastal road in undetermined strength to set up an effective roadblock. The highway is about 10 miles inland from the sea.

The navy, meanwhile, announced that the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Princeton has joined two other big U. S. flatops in action off Korea's east coast.

The carriers are supporting the 10th Corps, including the marines trapped in Chosin reservoir area.

The military spokesman said he did not know the significance of the Chinese eastward thrust to the sea, but it appeared that the column would isolate the entire 10th Corps from the U. S. 8th Army and Allied troops fighting south of Pyongyang.

In that case, the entire 10th Corps including the marines, the U. S. 7th Division and the South Korean Capital division, would probably be evacuated by sea and air.

The Hungnam-Wonsan roadblock

Brother To Succeed Lancaster Mayor Called To Service

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Howard C. Bare, 39-year-old attorney and ex-technical sergeant, is slated to be inducted today as mayor of Lancaster succeeding his brother Kendig, who was recalled by the Army several weeks ago.

Bare is scheduled to be given his oath by the all-Republican city council during its weekly session. The council is composed of commissioners who chose the new mayor. He will hold office until November, 1951, when a special election will be held.

Bare was a prisoner of the Germans for four months following his capture during the Battle of the Bulge in December, 1944.

President And Attlee Aboard Truman's Yacht

Discussion Of Korea Crisis Are Continued In Secret On Yacht

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—President Truman and British Premier Attlee continue their discussions today on the "serious" international situation in a new drive to unite the free world against Red aggression.

The second meeting of the leaders of the two outstanding free powers will be aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg. News correspondents are barred.

Mr. Truman and Attlee held their first discussions Monday afternoon, one day earlier than scheduled, at the prime minister's request.

'Frank Discussion'
After the one hour and 45 minute meeting, a communiqué, in guarded language said that the pair had engaged in "frank discussion" of the threat of a Communist-inspired world war growing

New Storm In Pennsylvania Eastern Area

(By International News Service)
Howling winds, rising creeks and rivers and rain and sleet storms harassed eastern Pennsylvania today, while western and central areas of the state prepared for a cold front which will drive temperatures near zero.

Philadelphia was whipped by 45-mile-per-hour winds which damaged power lines and trees and smashed many windows.

Communities along the Schuylkill River, already struck by sleet and snow, faced further hardships because of rising waters which are expected to crest at 15.5 feet—two feet above the previous flood stage at Reading.

Flood Threat Dissipated
The flood threat apparently has dissipated in western and central areas, however.

Lower temperatures changed rain to snow and eliminated the

Taft Declares Republicans Not Consulted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, said today that President Truman should relay to the American people the peace proposal of British Prime Minister Attlee as soon as their conference ends.

Taft declared after a meeting of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, of which he is chairman, that the American people should be given more information on Far Eastern and European foreign policies.

The GOP policy chief also said that the Republican party "has not been consulted at all in this crisis."

Six Stretches Of Highway Closed By High Water

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Six stretches of highway were reported closed in Pennsylvania today because of snow or high water.

Blocked off, according to the State Highway Department, are Route 19 in Crawford County from Shesheville to Route 322 and from Cambridge Springs to Route 610; Route 6 in Erie County from Union City to Route 19; Route 8 in Erie County from Union City to Lowville; Route 99 in Erie and Crawford Counties from Cambridge Springs to Edinboro; and Route 11 from Northumberland south to the toll bridge at Sunbury.

EVACUATING TROOPS IN KOREA—GOING FOR MORE

NORTH KOREA—Empty trucks head toward the battle front for troops to evacuate. Other trucks loaded with troops head for Pyongyang with troops they have picked up at the front and are evacuating them. Clogged highways make the withdrawal of hard pressed United Nations forces difficult.

Push Plan For Extension Of Rent Control

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The House Banking Committee today approved, 17 to 3, a bill to extend the present federal rent control law to March 31, 1951.

Both Houses of Congress pressed today to get a two-month extension of Federal Rent Controls ready for President Truman's signature by the end of the week.

The House Banking Committee scheduled a rent meeting this morning and chairman Spence (D) Ky., predicted the extension resolution would be speedily approved. The House leadership has promised to give the legislation top priority as soon as it is ready.

In the Senate, Banking Chairman Maybank (D) S. C., planned to seek a unanimous agreement to give the legislation top priority for a vote Wednesday or Thursday on a companion measure.

At the same time, Maybank scheduled a hearing today on the appointment of Michael V. Disalle, former Toledo Mayor, as Price

Shenango River At High Stage

This morning, the Shenango River had reached a stage of fifteen and a half feet, one of the highest in recent years, but it is believed that it will now start receding, averting danger of any flood in the city. Flood stage, which would cause damage is around sixteen and a half feet.

Many low-lying sections along the Shenango above the city were under water, and water got into the pits and was over the bank at the Water Works, as well as many other points along the stream bank.

OHIO RIVER AT FLOOD STAGE AT WHEELING, W. VA.

WHEELING, W. VA.—The Ohio river is overflowing its banks and the water at the time this picture was taken was 35.1 feet (9 tenths of a foot below flood stage). A floating night club broke loose from its moorings, knocked 2 guy wires from a 100 year old suspension bridge, and became entangled with two other guy wires, threatening stability of bridge. Traffic of all types was halted until further notice, creating a terrific congestion, already overcrowded with moving vans evacuating families from the low lying areas.

Colder Weather Is Coming Wednesday

(By International News Service)

This is a day's notice to get ready for the coldest weather of the year in western Pennsylvania. Chill northwestern winds will precede a cold wave which will hit the district tomorrow night and drive temperatures near zero.

Today's weather will seem mild in comparison. The weather bureau forecasted cloudy and continued cold today with high temperatures between 32 and 36. Some snow is likely tonight and tomorrow.

Identity Of Slain Woman Being Sought

Dismembered Body Found In Suitcases In Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Police today threw every resource at their command into a wide search for the slayer who left the butchered body of a chestnut-haired woman jammed into suitcases in two 10-cent railroad lockers in Brooklyn.

They sent a description of the nude, dismembered body discovered in the coin-operated lockers in the terminal of the Long Island railroad to all eastern states.

Cause of Death Unknown
Still to be determined in a continued autopsy at the morgue in Kings County hospital, Brooklyn, today was whether death of the woman, around 40, tall and slim, could have resulted from poisoning or strangulation.

Dozens of detectives working on the case were to be on hand to fix the woman's physical features in mind when Dr. M. Edward Marten, medical examiner in charge of Brooklyn and Queens, renewed examination.

Department of sanitation employees were ordered to join radio car patrolmen in searching for discarded women's apparel, in the hope of linking any such articles to the hacked-up victim.

Search also was pressed for the woman's teeth and hands apparently removed by the killer to prevent identification.

School Board Heads Renamed

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery Re-Elected President

Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery was re-elected president of the New Castle school board Monday night when the annual organization meeting was held.

Dr. W. Fulton Jackson was re-elected vice president. Both have served the past year in the offices to which they were elected Monday night.

S. Garvin Ligo was re-elected superintendent of buildings, grounds and equipment.

The organization meeting is a stated meeting provided for by the school code.

Re-elected Unanimously
Board Secretary John B. Bechtol read the call for the meeting after which Dr. Jackson was named chairman of the meeting. Dr. Flannery was the only nominee for the presidency and was re-elected unanimously.

Following the reorganization meeting the board went into a business meeting. Bids were opened for improvements to fire escapes on the following schools: West Side, Pollock, Garfield and Croton. Only one bidder presented a bid, this being Andrew Pfahles. The bid was referred to the building and grounds committee.

Superintendent Frank L. Burton asked whether the school system would make up the week's absence caused by the snow storm of a week ago. He said the week would probably have to be made up but that the state might issue a ruling on it.

Second Day Of Woman's Trial

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Helen Larue Knable, of Chambersburg, today sat through the second day of her trial for voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Herbert Lemm, 30, of Cleversburg.

Witnesses testified in Cumberland county court yesterday that the 29-year-old housekeeper had argued with Lemm, her employer, on the day the shooting took place. Miss Knable claims the victim was the father of her unborn child.

After the shooting on August 31, according to testimony, the woman drove the victim to a Chambersburg hospital where he died eight days later.

Chinese Head South Toward 38th Parallel

U.N. Forces Setting Up Defense Line On Road To Seoul

By IRVING R. LEVINE
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

SEOUL, Dec. 5.—Under American strafing that killed more than 2,000 of their number, Chinese Red hordes occupied abandoned Pyongyang today and bore down on a new United Nations line astride the roads to Seoul.

North Korea's flame-lit capital and its airport were overrun by Communist China's swelling invasion avalanche which then rolled south over the frozen western coastal plain toward the 38th parallel, 70 miles away.

Whether the 1,120,000-man Chinese and North Korean Red Army would be ordered across the parallel to re-invade South Korea became an important question as UN troops toiled to set up defenses above that artificial border.

Battle 20 Miles From Parallel
American troops already were battling strong Communist guerrilla units only 20 miles north of the parallel. The fighting raged at Sihyon on one of the principal roads to the South Korean capital of Seoul, 51 air miles to the south.

As the Chinese pressure mounted steadily, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, the U. S. Army's chief of staff, inspected the new UN defenses being set up along an undisclosed line above South Korea's former northern boundary.

The American Army's top officer, who flew to Korea Monday after a four-hour conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo, was accompanied by Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth Army.

Collins and Walker flew in a liaison plane to an improved airstrip near the field headquarters of the Eighth Army's First Corps. After inspecting the new defenses, Collins conferred for a half hour with the First Corps commander, Maj. Gen. Frank Milburn.

Continue Heroic Struggle
Far to the northeast, American marines and army troops continued an heroic struggle to break out of Chinese Red encirclement just below the Changjin reservoir.

A Tenth Corps spokesman said Reds in this area had attacked the U. S. Third Division near Simjong, 17 miles from Hamhung on the Hamhung-Kotari road. There were no details on this fighting.

The spokesman also said that the Communists had taken the town of Ambyon, 10 miles southwest of Wonsan without opposition from United Nations forces.

Scores of miles of the snow-banked roads leading down from Manchuria's border were clogged with convoys bearing yet more of Red China's armed multitudes into eastern, western and central Korea.

Hit by Showers of Bombs
These fresh enemy forces were his by incessant showers of bombs, incendiaries, rockets and gunfire from hundreds of U. S. airmen credited with slaying more than 8,000 Chinese in the four days through Tuesday.

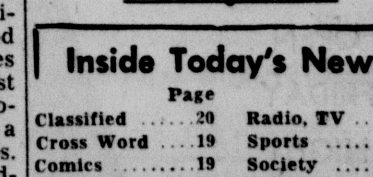

Waves of U. S. Fifth Air Force jet fighters and fighter-bombers poured through the day at elements of 15 Chinese divisions pouring into and through Pyongyang.

Plan Mission On Evangelism

District Methodists To Aid In Conference

New Castle sub-district of the Methodist church assembled Monday in First Methodist church for a luncheon meeting and business session. Dr. Thomas Morris, district superintendent, was in charge of the session in the absence of Rev. A. C. Howe, president.

Following the invocation by Rev. Floyd A. Duncan, Dr. Morris briefed the ministers present on their duties in regard to the Erie Conference evangelism mission which will be conducted in churches of the conference February 3 to 11. The program of the important effort was outlined by Dr. Morris, with committee members named.

A program of visitation work is planned, when ministers from outside the Erie conference will come to the district to conduct a week of services in the various Methodist churches and conduct a program of visitation to interest others in the Methodist church.

Youth Rally

A giant youth rally is planned on February 4 in the Grace Methodist church of Oil City, with a mass meeting scheduled for February 11 in the Cathedral building, when several thousand Methodists will converge on the city. A nationally known speaker will be present to address the audience.

The series will be preceded by the bishops' day in New Castle on January 7, with a breakfast and mass meeting to take place.

Due to the urgency of the business meeting, the devotional portion which was to have been conducted by Rev. Harry Johnson was dispensed with. Dr. Morris announced the Methodist family Christmas party which would be conducted at Epworth church on Friday, Dec. 15, with a dinner to take place at six p. m. The dinner and gifts for the children are contributed by friends of the Erie Conference. The affair is for every Grove City district Methodist pastor, wife and family.

"Up To Military"

But Millikin said the Korean situation has gone beyond the point where lawmakers can make a decision. He said it is "now strictly up to the military."

Wherry will report chiefly on the state department's conference late Sunday with top Republican and Democratic leaders.

Alternative courses of action which state department officials reportedly outlined at the conference were:

1. Complete withdrawal from Korea.
2. Bombing of communist bases in Manchuria and the approaches to Korea.
3. A call on other United Nations members for great numbers of troops to "fight it out."

Sen. Young (R) N. D., a member of the GOP policy committee, said that "unless we can get a great amount of help from other UN members, I'd say we better get out of Korea and fast."

Sen. Smith (R) N. J., a foreign relations committeeman, indicated he, too, leans towards withdrawal. He said:

"I don't think it a disgrace to be defeated by the preponderant numbers hurled against us."

Shoppers had difficulty in edging their way through the various stores and sidewalk space was at a premium.

CHINESE HEAD SOUTH TOWARD 38th PARALLEL

pondent Lee Ferrero said the Taedong river flowing west along Pyongyang's southern edge was choked with the bodies of more than 2,000 Chinese as a result of the jet strafings.

Nevertheless, surviving thousands of Chinese troops managed to ford the Taedong and surged a mile and a half farther south where they seized the Pyongyang air-drome.

Two Soviet-type Mig-15 jet fighters streaked through the sunny skies and attacked four American jet fighter-bombers.

The U. S. jet pilots jettisoned their bomb-loads and, despite their 350-mile-per-hour speed, chased the 500-mile-per-hour enemy jets 100 miles north across the Yalu river to Manchuria's "privileged sanctuary."

Strike at Rail Yards

Other American fighter-bombers struck at the rail marshalling yards in Pyongyang, destroying installations and materiel the UN ground forces had been unable to demolish before they gave up the Red capital.

Jellied gasoline bombs and rockets expanded the fires set in the North Korean metropolis by the Allied "scorched earth" demolitions. The flames roared through their third day and into the third night.

But the Chinese Reds kept streaming through and around the blazing city of 300,000 residents. Large enemy forces already were thronging down the flat lands sweeping south from the Taedong's estuary below Pyongyang. These troops also came under repeated U. S. air attack.

The Chinese forded the cold Taedong after all the permanent bridges had been blown up by the U. S. Eighth Army in its retreat from Pyongyang.

American airmen observed the Chinese forces occupying the North Korean capital only a few hours after the last of the retiring UN troops had left the city early Tuesday.

threat along the west and north branches of the Susquehanna and Juniata rivers.

Pittsburgh's rivers crested at 28.52 feet late last night. This was about three feet above flood level and caused minor damages in the steel city. Moderate flooding now will occur along the Ohio River to Wheeling, W. Va., as the crest moves downstream.

In the Pittsburgh district rising creek water flooded cellars when sewers backed up. Overflows along the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers inundated railroad sidings and forced some curtailment of industrial production, particularly coal barge shipments.

PRESIDENT AND ATTLEE ABOARD YACHT

out of the Korean crisis. It said the two governments declared their determination to arrive at a "mutual understanding."

The communique stated that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff, summarized the "serious military situation" of the United Nations forces in Korea. The communique added:

"Mr. Attlee and the president then reviewed the general world situation in the light of developments in the Far East."

The relationship between these developments and the responsibilities of the two nations in Europe and the rest of the world were emphasized.

To Reach Understanding

"The frank discussion which followed revealed the determination of Mr. Attlee and Mr. Truman to arrive at a mutual understanding of the serious problems faced by both the United Kingdom and the United States, as well as by other members of the United Nations."

The visiting plenipotentiaries left the White House through a side door, presumably to avoid a throng of reporters and cameramen.

The communique made no mention of reports and Britain and France are urging a compromise with Red China to avert an all-out war in that area.

It was pointed out that the Williamsburg is being used because it can accommodate more persons than is possible at Mr. Truman's official Blair House residence.

Since the ship is tied up at the closely guarded navy yard, it also precludes the possibility that any of the president's high ranking guests will be buttonholed in the American reportorial fashion.

At Conference

Those attending yesterday's conference, and presumably today's are:

Secretary of State Acheson, Treasury Secretary Snyder, Defense Secretary Marshall, Chief of Staff Bradley, Sec. of State Rusk for the Far East and Perkins for Europe, Ambassador-at-Large Jessup, Presidential Foreign Policy Advisor Harriman and National Security Resources Chief Symington.

At the same time, the International News Service learned that basic U. S. policy centers on the defense of Western Europe, despite the apparent attempts of the Communist world to lure it into an all out war in the Far East.

Rearming of Europe

As a consequence, the rearming of Europe will be speeded as well as general mobilization.

Meantime, the U. S. will maintain its vigorous campaign in Korea, even though the ultimate price may be a forced evacuation.

Other points made clear are:

1. If evacuation is forced, the U. N. forces can be saved because the U. S. has the sea and air forces to do so.
2. The U. S. hopes that the Korean conflict can be settled by mutual negotiation. But the administration will not appease Peiping by withdrawing the Seventh Fleet from Formosa or accept the condition the Red Chinese regime be seated on the U. N. Security Council.

Invite Attlee To Appear

In another action in the Central Korean problem, Lie and Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam invited British Prime Minister Attlee to appear before the world organization following his conferences with President Truman.

The British Prime Minister, without officially committing himself to the visit, is likely to proceed to New York for his first call on U. N. in the United States on Thursday or Friday. The assembly will be convoked into special session if Mr. Attlee expresses a desire to make a statement from the rostrum.

Mr. Attlee's only appearance before U. N. up to the present has been in the 1946 session, held in London.

Korea Climax Near

By next Thursday or Friday, a climax may have been reached in the Korean crisis and a review of the actual situation on the military front in Korea as well as the diplomatic front at U. N. may have become essential.

But the gravity of the situation and need for slow procedure in U. N. was pointed up by U. S. Delegate Warren Austin. In discussing the situation with correspondents, he said:

"It is part of wisdom to wait. We are trying to do everything to protect our boys over there. We do not want to move here until we have that unity of purpose among the delegations." This referred to the resolution calling on Communist China to get out of Korea. It was drafted by the six powers.

Asked by correspondents what can be done in the meantime to avoid the loss of precious time, Austin answered:

"We must pray."

Administration leaders in both Houses are confident they can get the extension through, although Republican opposition appeared to be growing.

change our fundamental purpose to work for the cause of a just and peaceful world.

Only One Part

"No matter how the immediate situation may develop, we must remember that the fighting in Korea is but one part of the tremendous struggle of our time—the struggle between freedom and communist imperialism."

"This struggle engages all our national life, all our institutions, all our resources. For the effort of the evil forces of communism to reach out and dominate the world confronts our nation and our civilization with the greatest challenge in our history."

Mr. Truman stressed the need for strengthening the nation's defenses.

The president said the rearmament "will change the lives of our young people" and continued:

"A great many of them will have to devote some part of their lives to service in our armed forces or other defense activities. In no other way can we be sure of our survival as a nation."

New U.S. Loan Given Kaiser

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The government today granted a 25-million dollar loan to Henry J. Kaiser and the industrialist simultaneously announced a 200-million dollar war production expansion program.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation scaled down the loan from Kaiser's original 38-million dollar request. The loan is aimed at preventing a stoppage of automobile production at Kaiser's strategically-important Willow Run, Mich., plant.

At the same time, Kaiser disclosed that this industrial empire will greatly expand steel and aluminum output next year and re-open a series of plants for shipbuilding and other materials urgently needed by military and civilian consumers.

TODAY IS OURS

Today is ours—with chance to smile
And make the day a day worth while,
To speak kind words of hope and cheer
To those cast down with care and fear;
To check the frowns that only mar
And leave upon our brow their scar.
Our trivial ills will come to naught
If other's sorrows claim our thought.

Today is ours to boldly dare
To meet our justice and be fair
In all our dealings—all we say.
Now is our hour, now our day.
Only today we may call our own;
Today is ours, and today alone.

The news was revealed at a dinner held recently at the Gesue residence, honoring the engaged couple.

No wedding date has been set by the young couple.

WALLER-PARK CHURCH WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Colonial in every detail was the lovely formal wedding ceremony solemnized in St. Mary's church Saturday morning, December 2, principals being Miss Marilu Waller, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan, 141 East Winter avenue, and Russell Park, son of Mrs. John Pardick, Harlansburg road. Vows were exchanged in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the young couple. Rev. Fr. Francis McCarter officiated, using the single ring.

The "all white" theme was used effectively in the altar appointments, with sunburst arrangements of mums, gladioli and snapdragons being placed at either side in tall standards, outlined against a background of greenery blending from a dark moss green at the base and graduating into a lighter green. The chancel was concealed by garlands of fern, and the glowing candelabra candles in stately branching candelabra providing the only light, lent much to the solemnity of the occasion. Organist and soloist who contributed further to the impressiveness of this occasion was Mrs. Wanda Gian-none.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Walter Pearson, the attractive bride was at once girlish and dignified in her white satin gown styled with moulded bodice encased in an abundance of lace, and the long fitted sleeves featured the inserts of marquisette which tapered off into a choke neckline, and the long fitted sleeves featured points-over-wrists. Her bouffant skirt, ending in a chapel train, was complimented with a quaint crinoline petticoat, and completing her ensemble was her finger tip veil of nylon net which cascaded from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a beautifully bound white prayer book marked with a single orchid tied with dainty streamers knotted with baby mums, and a rosary, gifts of the groom. Wearing a sapphire in her shoe, she observed the something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Quaintness was further emphasized in the attendants' satin gowns, all made identical with toe length full skirts, concealing crinoline petticoats, and featured fitted bodices. The sleeves were short and their satin mitts to the elbow matched as did their crownless hats, which were jaunty yet graceful in design. Wearing these contrasting ensembles in bronze mesh mink, frothy mist pink, water fall blush rose sapphire blue and bolero blue, were Miss Teresa Daugherty as maid of honor; Miss Teresa Kolank of Wierton, W. Va.; Miss Frances Daugherty, Miss Marjorie Becker and Mrs. Carmi Napadano, bridesmaids. Each carried colorful colonial bouquets, with streamers reaching to the hemline.

Paul Rydeberg served as best man, with Nick Napadano, John Henderson, Frank Durst and Hubert Gerstenecker ushering.

A congratulatory reception followed in the church entrance, with a wedding breakfast later taking place at the home of the bride's grandparents. Afterwards, a wedding dinner was served at The Castleton to the bridal party and their friends, places being set for 25. The bridal motif predominated, with the attendants' bouquets forming the centerpiece and lighted candles being used effectively. Later in the evening a reception was held from 7 to 11 for 300 guests in the Ecclesius club rooms. Here, the tiered wedding cake, topped with figurines, was cut by the bride. The bride's mother, Mrs. Walter Pearson, was aided by Mrs. Clarence Teckle, Mrs. Eugene McConghy and Miss Patricia Goodman.

Dispensing with a wedding trip until later this week, Mr. and Mrs. Park are "at home" in their newly furnished apartment at 1210 Delaware avenue. The bride, a graduate of New Castle High with the class of 1947, is head cashier in the local offices of the Electrolux Corporation. The bridegroom is associated with the National Radiator works of this locality.

The bride was honored at a series of lovely pre-nuptial showers and parties, and the array of beautiful and serviceable gifts received by the couple further testified to their popularity. These were attractively displayed at the Sullivan residence.

USE OF ATOMIC BOMB

Drama gets the biggest headlines because it is the biggest news. President Truman's ad lib reply to a reporter's question about the atom bomb not only made the headlines, but started Great Britain's Socialist prime minister flying to Washington.

No doubt thousands of American boys in Korea, before they died, have wondered despairingly for what Washington was saving the A-bomb. To a boy of 19 facing Asian hordes, discussions about whether it would be "right" to drop an atomic bomb on the savages must seem damnable.

The atomic bomb is a military weapon. This country has never used it for aggression. It is almost the only weapon in which the U. S. holds superiority over an enemy whose present military power is vastly greater in every other department.

This enemy has committed aggression and is threatening American survival.

When and how the A-bomb shall be used is a military decision, to be left to military men. To some situations the atom bomb is as ill adapted as a bazooka would be for duck hunting.

After being sucked into Korea by Russia, Washington has been exercising painful restraint. Interminable days have been lost waiting for decisions by the UN, etc. This restraint has not been matched by the enemy, which is Russia—although the fact that the enemy is Russia is seldom mentioned above a whisper in Washington.

MacArthur has been forced to fight a limited war, applying the military principle of economy of means. Desperate appeasement moves are now being engaged in. But there is little doubt that before long this country will have no choice but to use more effective weapons than discussions with the enemy and his puppets at the UN and at Washington.

CURBS ON COPPER

A wide segment of American industry will feel the new government curbs on the civilian use of copper that will go into effect January 1. That is to say, of course, that in time the National Production Authority's latest order will have its impact on consumers generally.

No one needs to be told how important a commodity copper has become in this mechanized and electrified (if there is no such word there ought to be) civilization. Copper is used in making automobiles, household appliances, television and radio sets. It is essential in power and communications systems. In the form of brass and bronze it fills countless other needs.

After January 1 civilian industry will be forced to get along with less copper than it has been using. In January and February the amount delivered by mines and smelters must be 15 per cent below the monthly average total shipped during the first half of 1950. In March, shipments must be 20 per cent under that figure.

These cuts are substantial. They are based on the first half of this year, when production was not as high as in the last half, and consequently less copper was used in recent months. The copper situation has been permitted to become critical. Copper now on hand represents only a 13-day supply. During World War II stocks never fell below a 30-day supply.

HISTORY IN THE SOIL

In building a 450-mile pipeline through New Mexico and Arizona, the El Paso Natural Gas Company made an unusual addition to the labor force for this operation. A group of scientists was attached to the trenching crews, to watch for archaeological discoveries and to save them from casual destruction.

The job of these scientists has been to excavate ruins of ancient buildings and remove all significant artifacts from them, and dig up skeletons and other evidences of earlier habitation discovered along the route of the trench, before these could be ruined by the trenching machines. Also they have examined the pipeline trench after it was dug, for any other interesting discoveries which might be made. The state museums are the beneficiaries of the scientists' work.

It is a pity that this aspect of an excavating project is so rare. There is no telling how much invaluable knowledge of the past has been lost forever because digging machinery ripped through archaeological treasures which went unseen or unappreciated, by the operators. Perhaps it is as well that we do not know how much has thus been lost; the knowledge might break a historian's heart.

SHOULD AWAIT NEW CONGRESS

It seems a bit presumptuous for members of the 81st Congress, who were repudiated by their constituents in November, to join in an attempt to force legislation on the country.

The Senate and House, which resumed after a recess for several weeks, will be able to act legally until noon on January 3, and only the most urgent matters should be considered.

Democrats will have a majority of only one vote in the Senate in the 82nd Congress, and the majority in the House has been reduced by Republican successes.

Such legislation as radical changes in the federal taxing system should be postponed for action by the new Congress, in order that the new members may have a voice in this important work.

Harold Stassen suggested peace talks between President Truman and Joe Stalin and Pravda, the official Russian newspaper, denounced him as a "war monger" and "crazy speculator." Why all the irritation? Joe didn't do so badly when he talked to Mr. Truman at Potsdam.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Peace Of World At Stake

The basic relative importance of the European and Asiatic spheres to defense of the United States and to the peace of all the world forms the backdrop for an international conference almost unparalleled in recent times.

It is the visit to Washington by British Prime Minister Clement Attlee to talk with President Truman at a time of grave international crisis.

Upon its outcome will depend the course of future history. For decision must be reached as to whether both Asia and Europe can be saved from communism and whether priority is to be given to one theatre or the other if Soviet Russia refuses to abandon her campaign of world expansionism.

Marking Time
Except for the savage fighting in Korea from which the whole present era of doubt, danger and tension stem, the diplomatic world is virtually marking time until after Attlee and Mr. Truman have concluded their discussions and announced their decisions.

Attlee started out from London in full agreement with Premier Rene Pleven of France on what steps must be taken. It is unquestionable that their talks at 10 Downing street covered every conceivable question connected with the world crisis and it is undoubtedly safe to assume that two cardinal decisions were made.

One is that the present far eastern conflict must be localized because of enormous British and French interests in the Orient that would be gravely endangered in event of spreading war.

May Not Overlook Europe
The other is that whatever future actions may be taken with regard to Korea and China, the defenses and interests of continental Europe must not for a moment be overlooked.

It is considered highly likely that Attlee will take the opportunity of presenting to Mr. Truman an exposition of Britain's "long-range" policy—one that is shared entirely by France.

Fundamentally, this policy aims at looking at the picture years if not decades ahead.

It opens up possibilities unless the odds on advantages are strong. And while both Britain and France have found themselves involved in various unpleasant experiences, there usually has been a "fire escape" and some workable means of retrieval.

Unity of Ideas
Advance information from London prior to Attlee's departure for Washington emphasizes the complete unity between Attlee and Premier Pleven.

It is apparent that both Britain and France will continue to support the United Nations in its Korean action.

But it is equally obvious that Attlee has been delegated by virtually all of western Europe to serve as a potential bridge between east and west.

He may even attempt the role of an active mediator.

It is significant that before he asked President Truman to receive him in Washington, Attlee made known through his government that delegates of the three western allied powers would meet in Paris to draft plans for a big four conference.

Reply To Russia
These plans embrace a reply to Soviet Russia's latest proposal for a big four meeting. The reply itself will take the form of an agenda, setting forth the nature and priority of the problems that the west feels must be discussed and adjusted.

Then, the nature of Russia's counter-reply will determine whether the allies believe a big four meeting would be practical or profitable.

Sentiment in both Britain and France has been rising steadily in favor of such a conference. Western Europe as represented by these two powers firmly believes that the east-west split somehow can be healed, and that in any case any precipitate action that might widen it must be avoided.

Whether any optimism whatever in the east-west conflict is justified may be open to question. But Attlee is determined to find some way of working things out if there is one.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

These are the days of the 10-point programs, 5-point programs, 9-point programs and no-point-at-all programs.

But if I were Acheson I would be especially careful. He came up with a 6-point program to the president's 3-pointer and employees are not supposed to have more ideas than the boss.

Tom Watson, the business machine man, has the simplest program of all—his has one point, "think."

Mr. Watson has thought himself into a sizable fortune and most of his officers with him, so it must work.

In fact when a president or a governor or a senator is sworn in, instead of the customary oath they might just ask him "and do you solemnly promise to think?"

There's nothing very dramatic about that one word "think" but if you were to start tracing most bad situations back to their beginnings you would find that somebody didn't think nearly enough.

"Think" hangs in every IBM office—to bad it doesn't go with every elective office.

WINGATE, England — British Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell: "I am afraid as long as Russia is in a mischief-making mood there is no prospect of permanent peace."

WASHINGTON — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.): "An ultimatum should immediately be sent to Red Russia and its puppets to draw (from Korea) under penalty of use of every weapon in the arsenal of democracy."

LONDON—British Prime Minister Attlee: "I am not going to talk about any particular facet of any problems which the world is facing, but I want to survey the whole scene as it is now and may be in the future."

NEW YORK—Maj. Alexander P. Deseversky: "It's time we got over the illusion that we have a super-weapon that will solve any military problem."

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

In the good old days . . . most weddings were held during the month of June . . . but like many other things . . . the time of year doesn't seem to matter . . . now December or March or any other month finds the churches filled with wedding parties . . . And some wedding parties are really something to see . . . As the bride party trips down the aisle it looks like the opening of the late Al Jolson's show, "Wonder Bar" . . . such glitter and ceremony.

But those are the exception . . . most people get married with just the family and close friends in the audience . . . That way you don't feel quite as nervous . . . a quick get-away from the church . . . skipping the reception where everyone consoles the bride and congratulates the groom . . . seems to be passe.

The more people who attend the reception . . . the more food and drink served . . . the more the friends feel sorry for the father of the bride . . . And someone has to feel sorry for pappy . . . the bank certainly won't when the bills come due.

But some daughters and their mothers insist that Father is made of that green stuff . . . and that must be what the Tydings gal in Washington has in mind . . . As it has been announced that 50 thousand bucks will be spent for her wedding and reception . . . Now it seems to me that you can get a lot of wedding for that kind of money . . . but you can bet your bottom dollar that the knot won't be tied tighter than if they spent ten dollars.

Surely to goodness . . . such display will show, that only here in the United States can such a thing take place . . . if you want to spend huge sums on a wedding and go hungry the rest of your married life (this case is probably an exception) that you can do so . . . And that those who spend only a few dollars on a wedding can then live a life equal to those who spend much more . . . We are all free to make our lives what we want . . . Let's not confuse the issue.

'PUSH BUTTON WAR'

Motoring Joys In New York

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

The automobile is here to stay. In New York, anyway.

If you doubt me, please try to drive an automobile in New York, and you'll know that it is here to stay.

There isn't room for it to move, and there is no place to park it—so it just stays.

I brought my car up here, planning to use it to save bus, subway and taxi fares. I might just as well have brought a Mississippi paddle wheeler, for all the good it is doing me.

Ivy vines are growing on my car, and both Princeton and Harvard have made me bids. They want it to add another touch of the old, the very old, and the classical to their campuses.

Remember when you were a kid, and sat back of the wheel of your dad's car, twisting and turning the steering wheel, putting on the brakes, and blowing the horn, and never getting anywhere?

Never Gain An Inch

Well, that is exactly what driving an automobile in New York is like today. You go through the motions and never gain an inch. You can get blue in the face, while the lights are turning from red to green and from green to red, but your progress is nil with a capital N.

My car has floating knee action, acid proof gears, inner suspension glove compartment, torque sprung rubber cushioning, self-effacing headlights, and is safer than a hot glass of milk at midnight, but it all adds up to nothing.

It might just as well be the first car brought out by Mr. Haynes, or Mr. Locomobile, or Mr. Stutz, or Mr. Apperson.

Capable Of 120 Miles Per Hour

The speedometer shows that my car is capable of going 120 miles per hour, but that means nothing. With New York city traffic the way it is today I stand very little chance of covering 120 miles in the next fifteen years, much less in one hour.

The traffic conditions are no one man's fault, really. The truth is—and I know this by studying a map of the town as it was in G. Washington's day—New York's streets are little changed from the days when wig, snuff, and stage-coaches were part of American life.

Broadway, save for neon lights, is just about the way it was when the goose quill pen that would write under water was the rage.

There isn't much that New York can do about it, either. If you widen the streets, then someone has to live in the Hudson or the East Rivers.

Will Get A Bicycle

I know what I am going to do. I am going to get a bicycle. I won't look very pretty on it, that's for sure, and I'll be pointed out as the only newspaperman in New York who rides without hands, but I'll get where I'm going.

I already know what I want for Christmas.

A pair of hand-painted trouser clips, a mudguard for the rear wheel, a pair of mittens for frosty mornings, and a luminous belt for night riding.

Oh yes, and a wicker basket for the handlebars when I go shopping.

I am going to turn my automobile in for a bicycle—and I'll trade even.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

This is our way of life; a youth of no task afraid.

With hammer and wrench and grease, learning how things are made;

Wearing the workman's garb; gaining the workman's skill;

Step by step upward bound, post after post to fill.

Reaching at last the top, this final triumph scored:

"Boy who began in the shop, made chairman of the board!"

This is the way of our land and the glory of being free:

For every boy with the will unchecked opportunity:

From the humblest task at the start a chance to the top to rise.

To become what he wills to be as upward to climb he tries.

These are our heartening words—ambition's supreme reward:

"Boy who began in the shop, made chairman of the board!"

Only where men are free to follow the dreams they hold

Year after year, as here, is such an achievement told.

It has happened again and again and will happen so long as we

Make sure in this land of ours a boy to grow great is free.

Oh, lads who are coming on, let this in your minds be stored:

"Boy who began in the shop, made chairman of the board."

A NEEDLE IN A HAY STACK

A needle might be pretty hard to find in a big stack of hay. Old Bossy wouldn't like it very well if she found it. She would prefer hay.

Bossy is a good friend to have. She provides us with the best kind of food.

She has lots of time, so she eats hay and fodder and makes it into milk and beef.

Butch drinks the milk and eats the beef and makes it into a good boy. He doesn't wash behind his ears but Mom looks after that.

He needs all the milk he can drink which is plenty. It has protein and fat and carbohydrate and minerals and vitamins and other good things for Butch.

Folks Of Fame

William Coxtan was born in the Weald of Kent, England in circa 1422. He was apprenticed to a silk merchant, and after his employer's death, he went to Bruges, Belgium, and went into business on his own account. In 1471 he was in Cologne, Germany, and it was there that he learned the art of printing. He printed four books, then returned to England and established himself at Michaelmas in 1476. He was the first to print books in England, and from this time until his death he produced 18,000 pages of printed matter and published 96 separate works, or editions of works. He died in 1491.

Richard Croker was an American politician, born in Clonakilty, Co. Ireland, Nov. 28, 1841. He was brought to the United States when he was seven. He learned the machinist trade, and was married to a Cherokee Indian woman from Oklahoma. He entered politics in 1865, was elected alderman of New York City; was coroner for two terms, fire commissioner and city chamberlain. He opposed the Tweed ring and was leader of Tammany hall for 17 years. He lived in Ireland from 1907 to 1919, but returned to New York and died there April 29, 1922.

G.O.P. At The Grassroots

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—"They still don't know what hit 'em," is the considered opinion of the Hon. A. B. Hermann, a transplanted Boston Braves infielder who now master-minds as Executive Director of the Republican National Committee.

This means, in formal terms, that the Democratic leaders are still without comprehension of the significance and magnitude of their catastrophe of last November 7th. The true meaning of that phenomenon is not written in the big headline results, which any grade school child can read, but away down in the fine print which only the microscopic eye of an expert organizer can decipher. If Hermann, who's an expert par excellence, can read the true meaning—no wonder. He's the one who wrote it in the first place.

Down At Grassroots Level

"As I told you almost a year ago," Hermann was saying recently, "we set out to establish two-party competition down at the grassroots level."

Let's see: Last winter Hermann's research revealed that there were 120,000 vacancies in the ranks of GOP precinct workers. Today there are only 2700 such vacancies. Last winter there were 167 counties which had no Republican county chairman. Now there are only 27, and all are in the Deep South. In 1948 only about 32 per cent of businessmen bothered to vote; only 28 per cent of doctors and dentists and only 19 per cent of their wives went to the polls. In 1950 (although the figures aren't complete), it's apparent that the business and professional people who didn't stay home were largely responsible for the 41 million, record-breaking electorate of November. For the first time in statistical history, doctors by the hundreds were sending out letters and donating their cars to haul voters to the polls. Several thousand Healing Arts Committees—made up of doctors, dentists, nurses, pharmacists and their helpers—were ringing doorbells and passing out sample Republican ballots.

Everybody who can read knows the headline results, but a squint through Hermann's microscope shows a good deal more.

"Almost a year ago," said Hermann, "I told you we were going to take a punch at the soft underbelly of the Solid South—the States of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma."

First Time In 40 Years

Let's see. In New Mexico the Republicans elected a Governor, Edwin J. Mechem, for the first time in 40 years. In Arizona the Republicans elected a Governor, Howard Pyle, for the first time in 35 years. In Oklahoma where there has never been a Republican Governor, GOP candidate J. O. Ferguson came within 16,000 votes of winning in a State which has a normal Democratic majority of over 100,000.

This is grassroots stuff, and there's more of it. In Oklahoma the Republicans elected two Congressmen, George B. Schwabe and Page Belcher, over Democratic incumbents. In the Confederate State of North Carolina the GOP came within 2000 votes of electing two Congressmen. In Pinellas county (St. Petersburg), Florida, the Republicans won 14 out of 15 of the local elections. In Dallas, Texas, the Republicans sent their man, Edward T. Dicker, to the legislature for the first time since the Civil War. In the Second District of Maryland, the GOP seated Brig. Gen. Jimmy ("Send us more Japs") Devereux who overcame a Dixiecrat incumbent, William P. Bolton.

Signs Of Things To Come

All these spot facts, to Hermann, are signs of things to come in 1952. He believes that the GOP at last has driven an opening wedge into the Solid South. A week from today (December 8) he'll have the date collated to present to Republican National Chairman Gabrielson who holds a closed meeting of the party's executive committee.

It's Hermann's opinion that the Republicans can win both Congressional seats and presidential electoral votes in Dixie in '52. The white-collar business and professional classes there have already been breached. The Negroes will have before them the example of their Northern brethren who, in the two test-case cities of Baltimore and Chicago, voted 42 per cent Republican last November as against 22 per cent in 1948. Southern Labor is being petitioned, as it was with great success in Ohio and Indiana last month, to read the Taft-Hartley Act and see what it really says. Large Southern cities, by 1952, will be analyzed for their racial content as the Northern cities were in 1950. In Cleveland last month, for example, no less than 44 different racial groups—from big ones like Poles with 48,000 members to small ones like Spaniards with 385—were cultivated to bring forth the Republican majorities that so surprised the Democrats.

It all builds up into quite a picture of grassroots organization, and Hermann calls it "a blueprint for victory in '52." He could be right.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Poetry and classical music have never been very much up my alley.

But I must let you read a poem which was sent in by one of my Pennsylvania readers.

I don't know whether she wrote it herself or whether it is Shakespeare or McGoniggle.

It hit me right in my "union" which, according to my Sunday crossword puzzle, is the "external occipital protuberance of the skull". (What's the sense of doing these difficult puzzles if you can't ever use the words asked for?)

Here is the poem. The sender calls it "VICTORY".

"I've learned it isn't worth a fight To prove to you, my love, I'm right.

So, when at home we disagree The one who quits is always me. No argument is worth the cost, And when I win I always lose. So now I'm wise in wifely ways, And I admit I've found it pays.

Though he is sure HE's won with ease— I still can THINK just what I please."

Let me quote from the letter which accompanied the poem.

"I wish you would write about those people who believe in speaking their minds regardless of how it hurts."

"I recently had a friendship of 15 years' standing broken up by an argument. It was a silly argument at that, but it wasn't the first one—but it was just one too many."

"This argument happened to be on wrestling. He said that anybody who took time to watch it on television couldn't be very intelligent, as it was all a fake."

"I said 'Who cares?' Any show or sport that takes my mind off the troubles of today is worth watching."

"Maybe it was foolish of me to get sore, but there had been so many other arguments, especially on race and creed, that it took just this one more to make me blow my top."

Then the lady expressed another thought—on a subject that probably has caused as much trouble in this world as anything else.

"I have taught my children that all races and creeds are equal in God's sight," she writes, "and no matter what our religion, we really pray to the same God. Nobody is going to argue against that in my home."

"My son is in the service in Korea. It made me feel good to have him send me a picture of himself talking with a Japanese boy."

"That boy is fighting for the same cause for which my son is fighting, and I hope he still prays to the God of all races and religions."

Firemen Answer Over Fifty Calls In Week

City firemen answered over fifty calls for assistance in the week starting November 25 and ending December 2. Fire Chief Herman F. Steinbrink stated today. Only a very few of these were for fires, the rest being emergencies, when the new American La France truck, which was recently purchased, and which is located at the Sixth ward engine house, proved its worth many times over.

After the snow became bad, this truck was transferred to Central Station, and was driven by Chief Steinbrink himself on a number of calls to help people who were snowbound.

The first emergency call was received at 8:40 a.m., November 25, when the roof of a house at 18 East Division street, collapsed. A little later, Officer John Moore was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, after he had suffered a heart attack. Other calls on November 25 included: taking Nicholas Avery, 418 Cascade street to Jameson hospital; removing Mrs. Robert Boyd and two children of Melrose Lane to safety; taking a nurse to Jameson hospital; taking Mrs. Young, Boyles avenue, to Jameson hospital; taking Mrs. Jesse McCandless, of 29 East street to Jameson hospital; taking Mrs. Thomas Hanlon, 1510 Huron avenue to New Castle hospital; taking Campbell child to doctor's office to get broken arm set; taking doctor from Highland avenue to Jameson hospital; taking nurse from Albert street to patient on Wilmington road, taking Campbell child from doctor's office to home on Northview avenue.

November 26—Treating Mrs. Roger Jones of 601 Highland avenue after she had inhaled gas fumes; investigation of these fumes at 413 Court street; taking doctor from Jameson hospital to home on Highland avenue; taking Mrs.

Wanda Hucko of West Washington street to Jameson hospital; Infant Gillette from Fern street to Jameson hospital; another doctor taken from Jameson hospital to home on Highland avenue; thirteen nurses taken to hospital from Nurses Home on N. Jefferson street; food taken to Margaret Henry home; investigation by chief's car on East Washington street; body taken to undertaker's from Bradley avenue home; food taken to family on West State street; Ira Hoffman of 417 Newell avenue taken to Jameson hospital; food taken from various bakeries and market to Margaret Henry Home; investigation at Seavy's studio; investigation on South Mill street; milk taken to children on Reynolds street; lady taken from fire station to Jameson hospital; doctor taken from hospital to home on Highland avenue; investigation on S. Front street.

November 28—Fire at Bossert plant; investigation of smoke at Terrace school; Mrs. James Boce taken from 113 Quest street to Jameson hospital; Rose Clarke of 1226 S. Mill street taken to New Castle hospital; nurse from Garfield avenue to New Castle hospital; investigation at Julian Goldman store.

November 29—Investigation at Nielson building, S. Mill and Taylor street; investigation at Hamilton building, Mill and North.

November 30—Investigation at Jack's Tavern, Neshannock avenue; Mrs. Young taken from 810 Vogan street to Jameson hospital; clearing entrance to Sussex apartments, Highland avenue.

December 1—Investigation at 411 Cascade street.

December 2—Took James Stockman from doctor's office to home; investigated roof collapse South Mercer street.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERP

My Uncle Herbert loves to rough it in the woods every summer, communing with nature in an outfit that sets him back about three hundred dollars. Last year we were freezing gradually to death in an overnight cabin in Maine when I suggested that Uncle Herbert blaze a trail to the kitchen and light the stove. A couple of moments later he was back with his impeccable costume strangely tattered and torn. "I thought you were going to light the stove?" I grumbled. "I did," maintained Uncle Herbert, "but it went out." "Well," I said impatiently, "light it again." "I can't," said Uncle Herbert. "It went out through the roof."

An important author arrived unannounced to see his publisher one Wednesday. "Sorry," said the receptionist, "but he's away for the weekend." The author asked sarcastically, "Last weekend or this weekend?"

Hopes Prices Can Be Held Near To Present Levels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Economic stabilizer Alan Valentine told congress today that he hopes prices can "be held near their present level," but price-wage controls eventually might be necessary.

Valentine, who testified before the senate banking committee on his appointment, said that he could not discuss publicly when he thought price and wage controls should be imposed.

But he said that he hoped the nation is "very close to a general plateau where wages and prices are in reasonable balance." Once that plateau is reached, he said, he feels that "we should marshal our forces and hold it."

Valentine stressed that he considers controls such as credit restrictions a "more fundamental" method of dealing with inflation than price-wage curbs although he said that these might also be needed.

Supreme Court Refuses To Grant G.I.'s Damage Claim

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)

The supreme court has refused to grant damages to an ex-GI who claimed army surgeons left a bath towel in his stomach.

The court ruled that since Arthur K. Jefferson of Joppa, Md., was on active duty at the time of the surgery, he was not entitled to the $100,000 damages he claimed for alleged army negligence under a federal claims act.

Two other cases involving servicemen injured on active duty were given the same disposition by the court.

Jefferson, however, already has received part of some $33,000 in compensation for the mishap from the Veterans Administration.

Jefferson said that eight months after undergoing army surgery doctors opened his stomach and removed a towel 30 inches long by 18 inches wide marked "medical department, U. S. army".

Noting that "soldiers are at a peculiar disadvantage in litigation" Justice Jackson explained in effect that if servicemen were entitled to collect for service-connected injuries, the principle might also apply to every fighting man wounded in time of war.

Bake acorn squash with honey. Wash each squash and cut it in half lengthwise; scoop out the seeds and membrane. Put a tablespoon of butter or margarine in each half and bake in a moderately hot oven until the squash is tender.

Uncle Sam Is Santa Claus To Starving Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Government officials indicate that Uncle Sam is playing Santa Claus to starving Yugoslavia.

The U. S. has lent millions of dollars to the Yugoslav government so it can buy American food to help ease critical starvation shortages rampant in Yugoslavia.

Agriculture Department officials say the U. S. is determined to ship as much as possible of the food Marshal Tito buys to his starving people before Christmas.

They say the government hopes that if starving Yugoslavia receives U. S. food for Christmas it would emphasize the value of the U. S. as an ally, and proof of U. S. friendship.

The Agriculture Department has just bought almost 20 million pounds of corn meal from the open market for re-sale to Yugoslavia. The U. S. will make a "small profit" on that and other food transactions for the European nation.

Already Bought Or Ordered

Yugoslavia so far has bought or ordered 20,000 tons of sugar from the U. S.; 25,000 tons of barley; 12,500 tons of corn; 20,000 tons of beans; 10 million pounds of dried eggs; and two million pounds of Mexican canned meat and gravy.

The Mexican canned meat and gravy came into the Agriculture Department's hands under an arrangement with the Mexican government in the U. S.-Mexican campaign to eradicate foot and mouth disease of livestock south of the border.

Government officials also are preparing to buy large quantities of lard and wheat for re-sale to Yugoslavia.

The Agriculture Department forecasts a larger production of dried fruit in 1951-52 than this year.

The department indicates that it will not take much of an increase to improve over this year's output. The 1950-51 drying season will provide less than 400,000 tons of dried fruit. That is the smallest production in the past three decades.

A 10 per cent increase in output of strawberries also is seen for 1951. Preliminary indications point to a total of 151,600 acres for harvest in all commercial-producing areas next year.

That would be 10 per cent larger than last spring and 25 per cent above the 1940-49 average.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

More About Nursery Schools

Yesterday, in presenting the "case" for the nursery school, the value to children of material and equipment that the average home cannot have was stressed.

In these days of small homes and small families, the child who goes to a nursery school has these advantages as well.

First, he has companionship with children around his own age. The small families cannot provide this. With the example of the other children helping him he learns more quickly to eat new foods, to sleep when his body needs sleep and to be increasingly responsible for his own toileting and dressing. To be sure, these learnings can take place in his own home but with much more difficulty.

Second, and here we quote Dr. Hymes directly, "The nursery school supplements what the good home can offer by enabling children to spend part of the day in a world which is child-sized, clocked by 'child-time' and planned so that children can act the way that is normal for their stage of development."

"The low toilets and wash basins, the low closets and open shelves, the low tables and chairs make it more possible for children to use their developing powers, to meet with success and to build confidence in themselves."

If the idea of nursery school experience for your child interests you, yet you're not quite sure about it, the leaflet which Dr. Hymes has prepared may be helpful. It is available from the National Association for Nursery Education, Roosevelt College, Chicago, Illinois, for five cents.

Snow Bill Here May Be $40,000

As yet, Councilman Albert A. Hoyland has no idea as to the exact cost of snow removal here last week.

Asked if he believed $20,000 would cover the cost, he smiled. Another councilman indicated it would be nearer $40,000.

The city had to hire all the light equipment it could, put on extra men, shift employees from other departments to that of the department of streets, and in addition, pay for damage to fire hydrants.

CORN DISEASES HAVE BEEN SEVERE IN 1950

Corn ear and stalk rots have been severe in Lawrence County this year because of weather conditions, failure to practice a rotation or use of susceptible varieties. Stalk-rot has caused many stalks to break.

Testing of the various corn hybrids, recommended in Pennsylvania, for ear and stalk rot resistance is incomplete and at this time no listing of the relative resistance can be made.

Control measures suggested are the plowing under of crop refuse, since fungi develop on the old stalks, and practice of a crop rotation so that corn does not follow corn. The use of varieties that mature and dry rapidly will prevent most of the kernel molds.

SAVE EGG QUALITY IN COLD WEATHER

In cold weather the poultryman should gather eggs just as often as in the summer. During the morning when most of the eggs are laid, the animal heat will not have an opportunity to escape from all the eggs, for some nests will have laying hens in them all forenoon.

After the eggs are gathered they should not be left in the feed room very long. If the feed room is heated the quality of the eggs may be affected and if unheated the eggs may freeze.

A small room partitioned off in a corner of the house cellar makes it possible to provide satisfactory conditions for holding eggs. It is much easier to maintain proper temperature and humidity conditions in the small room.

ORCHARD PRUNING MAY START IN FALL

Early spring is regarded as the ideal time for pruning fruit orchards, but to wait until then involves the risk of getting only part of the work completed. It is possible to spread the work over several months, starting in late fall and continuing through the winter.

Because bearing apples and pears are less subject to winter injury than other fruit trees, they usually are first on the list where pruning operations start in the fall.

Large apple trees take the most time and are best suited for fall pruning. Next heartiest of the fruit trees are sour cherries. Sweet cherries and peaches should be left until last, at least until severe winter weather is past. Pruning of these two fruits can be delayed until the trees start coming out in leaf, although the dormant season is the best time for pruning, between leaf fall in autumn and start of growth in the spring.

Fall pruning should be delayed at least until the first few cold spells in early winter have had opportunity to kill off the more tender canes. Raspberry pruning should be delayed until early spring.

Highway Department Thanks Many Who Aided In Emergency

Pennsylvania Department of Highways and its County Superintendent Alfred A. Martin, wishes to thank everyone who so nobly rallied to the call during the recent emergency and helped get the various highways open to keep vital traffic moving along the roads, supplying food, medicines and running errands of mercy.

Special thanks went to the many thoughtful residents along the rural roads who supplied hot coffee and food for the men who worked around the clock to get the roadways open and to the various contractors, coal companies and individuals who supplied graders, bulldozers, and other equipment to open lanes for traffic.

Mr. Martin further expressed hope that rural residents will overlook the inconveniences caused by the equipment that opened the roads in perhaps closing lanes that had been opened in order to get the highway cleared of snow. As far as the records go, the snowfall was the most the department ever had to cope with and it was the first time all of the men of the department had to be pressed into service, giving some their first experience in snow removal.

Equipment is engaged presently in widening roads where only single lanes of traffic have been permitted.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Lorraine Kana finally received her engagement ring after she and Paul Harvey had been engaged for one year. Paul has been so low on finances he has been unable to buy the ring. ## Gilliland Named On New Wilmington Borough Council

W. G. Gilliland was named to fill the unexpired term of C. G. Lamb in the New Wilmington borough council at a meeting of the council Monday evening.

Mr. Gilliland is a former Burgess of the borough. Mr. Lamb resigned as councilman several months ago with three years still remaining of his term.

Most of the evening was spent in cleaning up details concerning the big snow of last week. Authorization of payment of bills, amounting to approximately $1000, for the cleaning of the streets was granted by the council.

A comprehensive sidewalk ordinance, compelling residents to clean their sidewalks, was introduced at the meeting. It will be acted upon at the January meeting of the council.

"Inside Stuff" On State College

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Occasionally, in my editorial enthusiasm for men—just any men—I am accused of overlooking the ladies.

The slight is certainly unintentional as under present arrangements it is quite impossible to achieve the former without an assist by the latter. And at least part of today's news is strictly for the girls; here, in this retreat wherein is located Pennsylvania State College, there are 4.3 men students for every girl enrolled.

Blissful Proportion
I believe this blissful proportion is approximately that in Alaska, heretofore known as the happy hunting grounds. The old theory was that if you got a guy cornered in the Klondike, he stayed cornered, because of distance, difficulty of escape routes, etc. etc.

I am happy to report that this is approximately true of State college, which is not quite as far as the Klondike but just as remote. This is a mountain fastness in which Pennsylvania located her state college because it is the geographic center of the commonwealth. It is served by no railroad and a visitor must disembark at stations ranging from 30 to 55 miles away, depending upon where it is decided to flag the freight.

Has Indian Sign On Him
But all in all, a girl who runs a guy to earth here really has the Indian sign on him. It is almost impossible for him to get reinforcements from home in time to be of any real benefit, and by then he's hog-tied, if you will pardon the expression.

Yet it is obvious that Penn State college has some kind of better mouse trap and no pun intended, for despite the difficulties of getting into and out of the region, some 12,000 students are currently enrolled here. This makes it the largest college, as differentiated from university, in the United States.

It seems to me that this inaccessible locality is an ideal place for either an institution of higher learning or a penal colony. You stach either a kid or a con in State college, and it's a sure thing either the dean of women or the warden can put the finger on one or the other in a jiffy. Escape is impossible.

Never Need To Worry

Parents who have put away an offspring at State college never have to worry over his whereabouts, as do Ivy League parents. It's always hard to tell whether students at Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley are matriculating in Math. 1 or the fleshpots or New York, which are so handy to them.

But at State college, an ed or co-ed is in for the duration. The center of campus life, or so it has always seemed to me, are the college dogwagons, and a variety of students have been kind enough to buy me hamburgers in the local mermaid taverns. I am always impressed by the great improvement in higher education since I got mine a generation ago.

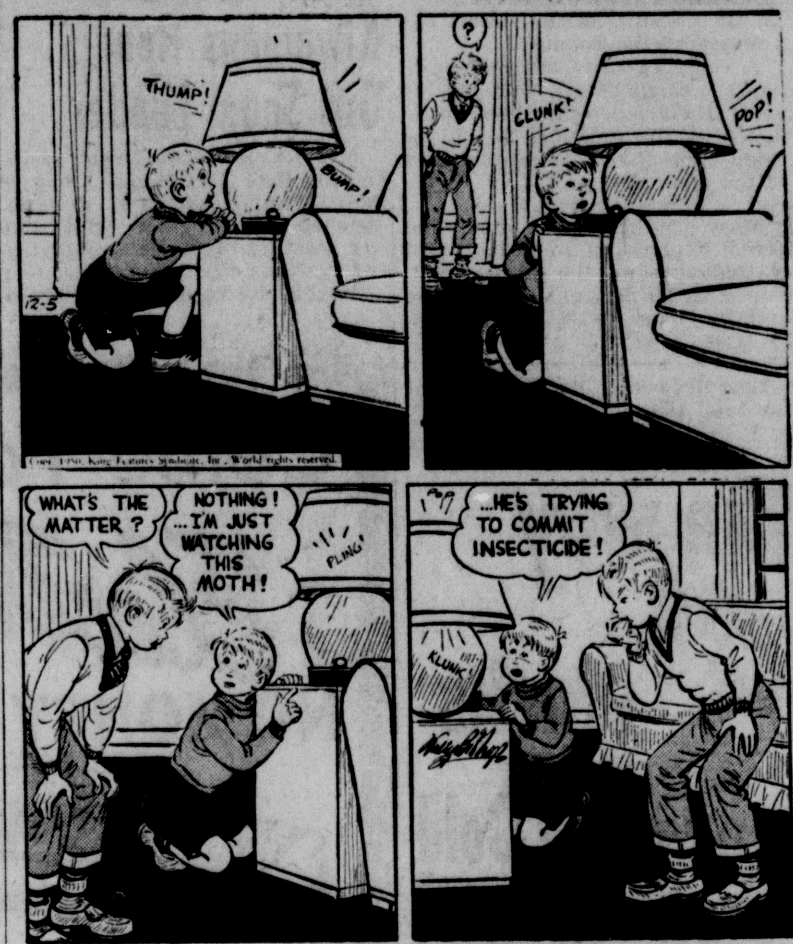

The hamburger remains constant but the other two chief adjuncts to A B A or B S today are new and consist of the juke box and the pin ball machine. When I was in college, we had to content ourselves with a gramophone and a punch board. But higher mechanization has taken over in this age of specialization.

Despite the beauty of this campus and the intellectual charm of students and faculty, I find myself depressed here by the incidence of a birthday anniversary and the realization that I am old enough to be an example, even if horrible.

I have been imported by the department of journalism to tell students how to do it. Would God I knew!

Fire Damages College Barracks Room On Monday

Fire of an undetermined origin caused several hundred dollars damage to student barracks on the Westminster college campus early Monday afternoon.

The blaze destroyed furnishings and clothing and damaged the walls and ceiling of one room in the barracks area before being brought under control by students and the New Wilmington Fire department.

The fire was discovered shortly before 1 p.m. yesterday by students returning to the barracks from lunch. Students used fire extinguishers and buckets of water to keep the blaze from spreading throughout the barracks area until the fire trucks arrived.

The fire originated in the south end of a row of barracks across the street and east of Old Main. Clothing and other personal articles belonging to the three students who occupied the room were destroyed or damaged. Students who suffered personal losses were Don Burdulis of Pittsburgh, whose entire wardrobe was destroyed, John Potter of Hartford, Conn., and Jack Ramsey of New Brighton.

New 'Mechanical Heart' Expected To Aid Surgery

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5.—(INS)—A new "mechanical heart" which promises to make medical history is now available for emergency use on a "clinically dead" patient undergoing surgery.

The machine was unveiled in Cleveland by Dr. Charles P. Bailey, noted heart and chest surgeon at Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia.

Dr. Bailey, who spoke at a meeting of the Ohio Chapter, American College of Chest Physicians, said the machine has been used successfully on 15 dogs in the seven years process of development.

If the machine performs as expected in its first application to a human patient, it is expected to open a new era in chest and lung surgery and in the treatment of medical conditions, such as asthma, pneumonia and heart disease.

Dr. Bailey said a dog was kept alive for 71 minutes while its heart and lungs were not functioning in a recent test of the machine.

The machine takes the dark, waste-laden blood from the veins, refreshes it with oxygen, then pumps it back into the arteries.

When it is used on a human, it will be a race against time to get circulation going again before irreparable damage is done to the brain and other tissues, Dr. Bailey said.

Use of the machine will permit surgeons to make bloodless heart operations and the heart will not be required to do its work. Dr. Bailey stressed, however, that "no one would dare" use the machine except as a last desperate effort to start the heart pulsating again, but he added there is "every reason" to believe it will work.

BREAKING OUT THE WINTER ROADS

In the absence of snow plows, our ancestors worked together to keep the roads open. Everybody helped... and everybody profited. Some roads were opened by driving oxen and horses back and forth to trample down the snow. Other roads had to be dug out by hand.

Many people, working together, can accomplish much more than can be done by one person. That is especially true in regard to home financing. The savings of many, added together, can be used to make home ownership possible for others. Your savings, and those of your friends, are loaned on first mortgages with our financing plan. ## Zoo Mystery Is Explained

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Somewhere in Philadelphia there's a boy who just loves snakes. That, coupled with a human fault of sometimes leaving a door unlocked led today to the solution of one of the zoo's most slippery mysteries.

The zoo discovered that two of its most valuable snakes—a four-foot python and a three-foot emerald boa constrictor—had been stolen from their cage in which the door had been left unlocked by a keeper.

Curator Roger Conant, who says there will be no prosecution and therefore there is no need to mention names, related that a teen-aged snake admirer simply opened the door and pilfered the python and boa, wrapped them around his chest under his leather jacket and walked out.

When the youth's father read about the snake thefts and saw the new arrivals in his son's collection, he confronted the boy, and the youth made a clean breast of everything, according to Conant.

Automatic Hovering Flight Achieved For Navy Helicopters

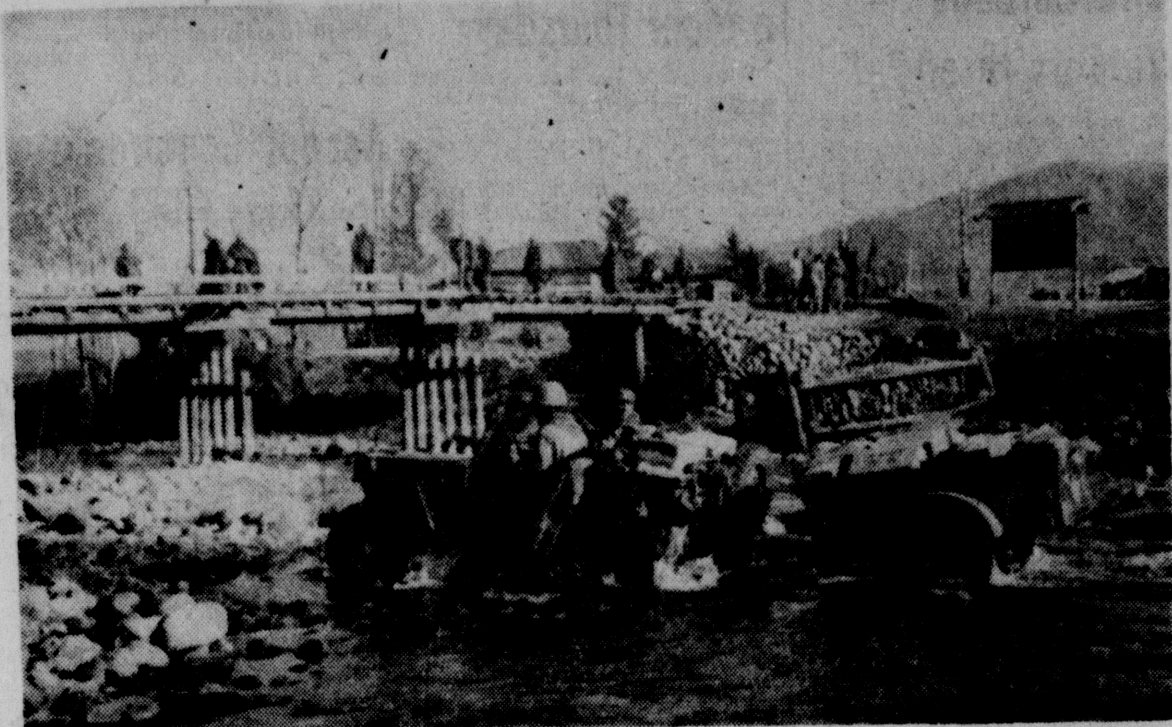

MORTON, Pa., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Automatic helicopter flight has been achieved in hovering as well as in all other normal flying conditions.

Under a navy research and development program, the Piasecki Helicopter Corporation has successfully achieved such long-sought automatic control.

Using a Piasecki XHJP-1, vertical landings and take-offs with the auto-pilot have been made as well as complete duplication of fixed wing auto-pilot controlled flight.

Automatic control in all flight conditions—particularly in hovering—has been the ultimate aim in the rotary wing field and one of the most important developments necessary to put the helicopter into almost limitless use in the military services.

Marines Withdraw From Yalu River

NORTH KOREA—A 1st Marine Division jeep and trailer, loaded with rations for troops crossing the bridge in background, fords a tributary of the Yalu river west of Kotori as United Nations forces withdraw from advanced positions to prevent them from being trapped by advancing Red hordes.

Social Security Increased Funds Save State Money

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The Department of Public Assistance estimated today that the State is saving about $250,000 a month through increased federal payments to Social Security beneficiaries.

When the federal grant is added to the commonwealth's contribution to old age assistance recipients, the state benefit is pruned until both sums equal the minimum assistance level, according to the DPA. If the federal grant exceeds the assistance level, the beneficiaries are dropped.

By the end of October, the DPA added 5,000 cases had been removed from the rolls because increased Social Security benefits exceeded state-mandated needs.

The hen is mentioned only twice in the Bible.

City Schools Receive Over $17,000 From County Board

Over $17,000 came to the New Castle school board Monday night from the county commissioners. The money represented rental and sales of properties which had been taken over for non-payment of taxes.

From rents the school system gets $2994.87, as its share. From sales of property the school system gets $14,448.22 as its share.

The matter of the proposed amusement tax in New Castle came before the board Monday night. Secretary John B. Bechtol said he had answers from 14 school districts of the state in which such a tax is levied. Most of them collect the amusement tax at sporting events, some take a commission for the collection while some do not collect it at all.

Under decision of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court the school board is not required to collect the tax. In the opinion of Director Ralph A. Cooper the New Castle board should co-operate in the collection here. No opposing opinion was given.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5.—Rhonda Fleming, the red-haired lovely, screamed when they offered to get her a double for the hootchy-kootchy dance sequences in "Little Egypt".

"They just couldn't do that to me," complains Rhonda. "I have always been cast as the dewy-eyed sweet young nothing and I was getting pretty tired of it all. When they offered me the role of the Chicago world's fair dancer in 'Little Egypt', I could hardly wait to write my name on the contract. This character is real, hard-boiled and interesting."

Likes Her Work
The Universal-International studio begwigs thought that maybe a sedate actress like Rhonda, who oftentimes sings in the church choir, would not take kindly to all the hip waving required of her as the famed dancer.

Rhonda, however, surprised them all. She scorned a double and practiced the hootchy-kootchy for two weeks before the scenes were shot.

"All it took," said the titian-haired beauty, "was a pair of hips, and I had those. So why a double?"

Hunt Wooden Beads
On another set at Universal work was held up for an hour or two on the new Claudette Colbert flicker, "Bonaventure", while the property crew scurried around for several gross of balsa wood rosary beads.

It was discovered by the sound engineers that the conventional glass beads worn by nuns in a convent sequence were fouling up numerous takes in the film.

The beads, being worn as regulation part of a nun's habit by Claudette and other feminine players in the film, were found to be making such a clinking noise when the players walked across the set that bits of dialogue were overshadowed by the noise.

Balsa wood rosaries, used in some convent orders, were found in a religious supply house in Los Angeles and were rushed to the set to save the day for the sound department.

No Dubbing
They had trouble on another set when Benito Caprezio, leading tenor of La Scala in Italy 40 years ago, flatly refused the job of dubbing in his singing voice for Francis the mule in "Francis Goes to the Races".

The noted tenor, who made his movie debut at the age of 72 in Universal's recently-completed Bill Mauldin comedy, "Up Front", said that offering a mule dubbing job was "an insult to Italian grand opera". Chill Wills will sing as well as speak for Francis.

RESTRICTED WORD
BOSTON—The world "venerable," while meaning worthy of honor, respect and reverence, is specifically used as a title of address to designated archdeacons of the Anglican church.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—(INS)—State Draft Director Henry M. Gross said today he has received a directive from Washington which "in principle" would ban publication of draft calls in Pennsylvania. ## Extra Thickness To Sidewalk Concrete

Blair Strip Steel company reported Monday to Council that it would pay the difference of cost between nine inches of concrete in their sidewalk and four inches, which are ordinarily laid. Council accepted the proposal. The work has been performed by the contractor already. Heavy trucks drive over the sidewalk, it was pointed out, hence the extra thickness.

Pastors Hear Speaker Monday

Hold 1st Business Session For 1950

Final meeting of the year was held by the New Castle Ministerial association Monday in First Presbyterian church with president, Dr. J. Paul Graham, presiding over the business session.

The group heard an interesting talk on the Florence Crittenton home at Youngstown, O., given by Mrs. Ruth Shaw, directress of the home. Prior to the address a devotional period and business session was on the agenda.

Dr. Graham introduced Dr. Arthur C. Senn, new pastor of First Methodist church, to the group, as it was his first meeting with the pastors. A letter of introduction and commendation was read from the Pittsburgh Methodist Ministers association in behalf of Dr. Senn, in which praise of his work in Coraopolis was given and asking that he be received into the group here.

The radio report was given by Rev. Everett Spring, in which he read the Sunday assignments for December through March. The report was a tentative one and some assignments may have to be re-arranged.

County Home Chaplain
Dr. Robert M. Patterson, chairman of the chaplaincy committee, asked that a permanent chaplain be named for the County Home to replace Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, who has left the city. The salary of the chaplain was placed at $300 with a Tuesday night service to be conducted and at least one afternoon a week to be spent at the home in visitation work. Church choirs and other workers would assist in the evening programs.

Suggestion was made by Rev. Paul E. Walthour that the pastors erect suitable welcoming signs from the churches at each entrance to the city, welcoming strangers to the city, inviting them to attend church here if they were to visit the city. Rev. Walthour also suggested that letters of appreciation be sent to the radio station and city officials for their good work during the recent emergency.

Tells of Work
The speaker of the hour told the ministers of the workings of the Crittenton home in Youngstown and how that home is operated financially. She stated that from 18 to 20 young women are housed there during the period of their confinement. There are 53 such homes for unwed mothers in the United States. The residents live in ideal surroundings and have proper medical and dental care during their residence. The girls perform the many tasks in the home, with much leisure time provided them. Religious services are held for the girls twice weekly.

New Drug May Prove Effective Against High Blood Pressure

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — A new drug known as SKF 688 may prove effective against high blood pressure, according to scientists from Smith, Kline & French of Philadelphia.

SKF 688 was reported to be related to dibenamine which was found to block the rise of blood pressure caused by injections or secretions of adrenalin.

However, dibenamine causes nausea and vomiting when given in doses sufficient to prevent the rise of blood pressure. The scientists said that SKF 688 may have the same basic effect without undesirable side reactions. Tests so far have been conducted only upon animals.

George Harvey, instructor in salesmanship at New Castle Business College, spoke to New Castle Rotary Club members on the magic of words, when he addressed them at the weekly noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday.

He gave many examples of the use of words in selling, which have produced phenomenal results in sales promotion throughout the country, and gave his audience some advice which will prove practical to them if put to use.

Renders Bill
For Snow WorkPhiladelphia
Asks For $20

Oleg N. Dudkin of 5456 Delancey street, Philadelphia, seems to be a lad who places a high value upon his labor. He also seems to be a little irked at the recent snow storm.

Mr. Dudkin has rendered the county commissioners a bill for $20 which he says is five hours work at $4 per hour for digging himself out of a drift on highway 19.

Seems Mr. Dudkin started from Mercer for Philadelphia and about the time he hit Brennenman's hill ran into drifts. With some other motorists he shoveled his way out, taking five hours for the job. Now he seems to believe the labor is worthy of his hire, in this case at $4 per hour.

The county commissioners have no intention of paying him $20 nor yet 20 cents. In the first place they claim they didn't cause the snow. In the second place highway 19 is a state route over which the county commissioners have no jurisdiction and in the third place they aren't going to pay the bill in the first place.

ARGUMENT COURT

Sitting en banc, Judge W. Walter Brahm and John G. Lamoree held argument court Monday morning. The court heard the argument on the city pension plan which was recently declared invalid by the court.

For the city and for the employees Attorneys Alvah M. Shumaker, Ralph A. Cooper and Assistant Solicitor Robert Jamison argued that the court could order those portions of the city ordinance which did not correspond to the state statutes, taken out of the ordinance.

For Jacob F. Genkinger, the complainant, District Attorney Sherman K. Levine argued that much of the parts which are not good are so interwoven with the entire fabric that it would be impossible to do this. The court will hand down an opinion later.

The conviction of Owen Ransome upon a morals charge was argued. For the county Assistant Attorney John S. Powers argued that the conviction was borne out by the evidence and the law. For the defense Attorney Joseph Solomon argued the verdict was entirely out of line with the evidence and the law.

WEDDING CLOTHES FOR BRIDEGROOM

"Please tell us how the groom and his attendants should dress at a church wedding?"

Answer: At a formal morning or afternoon wedding at which the bride wears traditional bridal dress, the groom and his attendants, as well as the bride's father, should wear formal daytime clothes: Cutaway coats, striped trousers.

This is correct attire whether the wedding takes place in the morning or afternoon, whether the bride wears white and a veil or formal afternoon clothes and a hat and whether the wedding takes place in church or in the bride's home.

In small and country towns where conventions are not so strictly adhered to and at any wedding that can be called simple, each man in the bridal party may wear: A well-tailored navy blue sack suit, white shirt and collar, a four-in-hand tie, black socks and shoes and a boutonniere. If the wedding takes place in mid-summer at the seashore or in the country or in a garden the men may wear white flannels or white linen suits.

Formal evening clothes are not correctly worn until after 6 p.m. At formal evening weddings, full-dress for men is required, white tie, swallowtail coat, etc. Dinner jackets (tuxedos) may be worn at informal evening weddings.

It is important that the bridegroom, all of his attendants and the bride's father should be dressed alike.

Question: Recently I received a marriage announcement from an old school chum. Should I send a wedding present or not? Is it proper to send a gift upon receipt of an announcement.

Answer: It is perfectly proper to send a gift upon receipt of an announcement. But it is not necessary. Relatives and close friends, usually upon the announcement of a quiet wedding, send the bride a gift. Acquaintances do not.

Rural Delivery
Of Mail StartsCarriers Are Out
On Routes Today

Rural carriers started delivering mail in the rural areas of the county today, with most of the highways now open to travel, but mail is only being delivered where the carrier can get to the boxes. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated.

It is mandatory that space be cleared around the box so that the carrier can drive up to it, and place the mail in the box without getting out of his car.

Patrons, residing along the Harlansburg road, who had to move their mail boxes when road improvement started this summer, are also advised to get their boxes up, now that this improvement has been completed. Many makeshift devices were in use while work was being done on the road, it was found.

If the rural patrons will cooperate in these matters it will result in their receiving prompt and better service, the postmaster states.

Faces 28 Different

Traffic Charges For

Wild, Fast Chase

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Three thousand dollars may seem like a lot for bail in a traffic case, but—

James H. Clark was arrested on 28 different traffic counts and two of assault with a dangerous weapon—his automobile, after a wild, high-speed chase through south-east Washington.

Motorcycle officers L. A. Pinner and R. F. Brown said they chased Clark down one way streets the wrong way, through red lights and stop signs and when he drove without lights before two separate lunges by the automobile forced them to the curb and out of the race.

Two other cops arrested Clark a short distance later when they found his car parked in a gas station.

Cowboy And G-Man
Books Now Part
Of School Reading

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—Cow-

boy and G-man books now are part of the suggested reading list in Philadelphia public schools.

The idea is to give pupils an ample opportunity to read for entertainment in material drawn from sport, adventure and current experience.

Junior high schoolers now have such titles as "Buffalo Bill," "Cowboy in the Making," and "Adventures of a G-man" along with such standbys as "Robinson," "Sherlock Holmes," and "Tom Sawyer."

High school pupils now can choose such up-to-the-minute volumes as "Hiroshima," "Operation Atomic Vision," "A Bell for Adano," and "One World or None." The Board of Education says the idea is a blend of the old and the new—a meeting of today and yesterday so that the pupil is conscious of the steady stream of human experience of which he is the heir.

FERENCE-DADEJKO EXCHANGE OF VOWS

An impressive double ring ceremony in the Sacred Heart church of Sharon united the lives of Miss Violet Ference and Joseph Dadejko, Jr., Saturday morning, December 2.

The bride, who resided on Lincoln street, Sharon, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ference, Farrell, and Mr. Dadejko is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dadejko, Denver avenue, New Castle.

Joseph Ference escorted his sister to the altar where Rt. Rev. Msgr. James F. Murphy officiated at the service. Miss Mary Matta presided the organ and accompanied Miss Mary Catherine Novak as she sang.

The wedding was to have taken place November 25 but was postponed due to the storm.

The bride was attractively attired in a gown of eggshell satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and folds of satin and rose point lace which formed the deep bertha. Lace ruffles featured the cathedral train and tiny ruffles also outlined the pointed sleeves. The finger-tip veil was edged with matching lace and cascaded from a head-dress of lace entwined with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white baby mums and a crystal rosary, the groom's gift.

Miss Mary Sliwicki attended the bride as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Marie Ference, niece of the bride; Olga Dadejko, sister of the bridegroom; Peggy McGrath and Jean Presnar.

Walter Sniezek of New Castle served the groom as best man. Ushers included Walter Gorgacz, William Alexander, Edward O. Korn and Paul Radkowski.

The wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ference, Lincoln street, Sharon. The dinner was held at 5:30 o'clock for 55 guests including the bridal party and families.

A reception for 300 friends and relatives was held at the C. D. of A. hall from 7 to 11 o'clock. White mums decorated the room, with a tiered wedding cake gracing the table centerpiece.

Following their honeymoon the young couple will reside at R. D. 2, New Castle.

The bride was graduated from Sharon high school and the La Casa de Wil-Mar Beauty school. Her husband is a graduate of the New Castle high school and is employed by the United Engineering & Foundry company.

Water Closes Harbor Road

High waters of the Shenango river which have inundated the Harbor road, have closed that road to traffic, Alfred A. Martin, County Highway Superintendent reported today.

Several feet of water cover the road and the river is throwing up pieces of ice on the highway making travel over the road dangerous. The road will remain closed until the water recedes and any impediments thrown on the highway removed.

All roads leading to the Harbor road have been blocked off by the highway department in order that

Yule Mail Rush Gets Under Way

Local Residents Asked To Mail Early

With the Christmas mailing rush coming on apace, Postmaster William R. Hanna today urged local residents to assist the Post Office employees in getting ready for the event.

Christmas is only three weeks away, and much needless waiting can be avoided if patrons will anticipate their Christmas needs and buy their stamps now, before the last minute rush develops.

Christmas packages should be mailed as soon as possible now. These can be marked "Do not open until Christmas," and by mailing promptly, recipients will be sure of getting them before Christmas.

Heavier Mail Expected

It is anticipated that the Christmas volume of mail will be around five per cent more this year than last, which means that many more packages and letters to deliver.

Christmas greeting cards should also bear a three-cent stamp in order to insure prompt delivery, as greetings bearing only two-cent stamps will be treated the same as third class mail, and will not receive preference in delivery. If a jam develops, envelopes bearing only two-cent stamps will be laid aside in order to give preference to first class mail. Some of these, which arrive late in the post office, may not get delivered until after Christmas.

In addition, it is important that the correct address be placed on Christmas cards and packages. People seem to have as much faith in their mail carrier as they do in Santa Claus at the Christmas season, and expect the carriers to deliver letters which bear only the name of the recipient and the name of the city. In many cases in the past, no street address has been added. The result has been that many of these letters found their way to the dead letter office, or to be more specific, the post office furnace.

Seek Renaming Of Brumbaugh As State Banking Secretary

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Pressure is reportedly being exerted upon Gov.-Elect John S. Fine to re-appoint Banking Secretary D. Emmert Brumbaugh in his cabinet.

The pressure, according to reports at Fine's vacation headquarters in Miami Beach, is being applied by Pennsylvania bankers who reportedly have informed the incoming governor they think Brumbaugh has given a fair and honest administration.

There have been rumors that Fine did not intend to rename Brumbaugh, originally appointed banking secretary by retiring Gov. James H. Duff.

Donald P. Horsey, president of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, has written Fine urging him to retain Brumbaugh because of the banking secretary's "outstanding record."

Two other prominent Pennsylvania bankers reported in Brumbaugh's corner are George Reilly, of Harrisburg, a member of the State Banking Board, and former PBA President Claude Bennett, of Wellsboro.

Support for Brumbaugh also has cropped up among consumer credit companies, small loan concerns, and automobile finance dealers, according to reports.

Fine expects to return to Pennsylvania for conferences in Harrisburg on Wednesday. He has been vacationing in Florida for the past two weeks.

Outstanding humor and entertainment will be the distinguishing feature of the season's first production for the New Castle Players club.

Originally scheduled to open November 30, the production will open Thursday, Dec. 7, in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

First undertaking of this kind in many years, the local "little theater" group hopes to bring to the theatergoing public of New Castle and vicinity the tops in entertainment this season. Its first production, "Funny Business," combines several one-act plays with variety entertainment to round out a full evening of enjoyment.

The plays are under the direction of Mrs. Marian Stafford, Miss Ethel Cowles and Carl Cotton. The variety numbers will spotlight stars in the local entertainment field in vocals, instrumentals and dance routines. These stars will include Miss Margaret Sutton, Miss Marlene Pitzer and Mrs. Florence Groden.

Members of the Players club are for the most part seasoned veterans of "little theater" work throughout the country who are now residents of this district. Their work has sparked most local productions in past years. The Players club is a spare time activity with all members.

They are business men, clerks, secretaries, agriculturists and homemakers. The Players club is a non-profit organization whose work is dedicated to the revival of a full scale little theater group in New Castle.

Methodists To Honor Bishop

Honoring Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, resident bishop of the Pittsburgh district of the Methodist church, Methodists of New Castle and its environs will hold a laymen's breakfast and mass meeting in the city on Sunday, January 7.

Delace Cole, layman of First Methodist church, has been named chairman of the event which will attract many Methodists to the city for the annual affair.

The place of the breakfast is yet to be announced, but the mass meeting will be held at 11 a. m. in First Methodist church, North Jefferson at North street. The breakfast is confined to laymen, while the mass meeting will be of a public nature. It is expected that most Methodist churches will cancel their morning service that day in order that members will attend the worship service. Bishop Wicke will be the speaker of the hour at both events.

Each district Methodist church in both city and county will cooperate in the event, with pastors of the various churches represented on the program. A similar dinner was conducted last year and proved highly successful.

Naval Enlisted Reservists To Be Called Next Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The Navy announced today that it will call up 15,000 enlisted reservists during April, May and June.

The call was the first large-scale summoning of reservists since the lull in mobilization following the Inchon invasion in Korea.

The Navy said that about half of the 15,000 will be enlisted men with at least six months of experience in the Navy. The balance will be Naval specialists in 34 different fields.

Orders will be issued four months in advance of the dates for reporting for duty.

The Navy said no delays will be granted "except in personal hardship cases or where such delay is regarded as in the national interest."

A further recall of enlisted men in the inexperienced reserve grades of E-1 and E-2, is planned for the near future.

The Navy said this was scheduled for July but "may be started earlier if the capacity of recruit training centers will permit."

Defense officials indicated that the entire reserve program for all three of the military services is being reorganized.

On October 23, orders were issued requiring four to six months notice in calling up reserves, and laying plans to release 5,000 of them per month beginning in July.

Central Area Of State Saved From New Flood Threat

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5—(INS)—Low temperatures changing rain to snow saved much of central Pennsylvania today from its second flood threat in 10 days.

The federal state flood forecasting service at Harrisburg reported that the Susquehanna River and its tributaries had crested this morning except below Wilkes-Barre on the main stem, Newport on the Juniata River and Williamsport on the west branch.

Heavy rains yesterday had led to flood warnings but snow last night eliminated the danger.

Below Flood Stage

Crests near noon were predicted at Sunbury, Williamsport, and Newport, with the river at each point safely below flood stage. A crest of 15 feet at Harrisburg, two feet below flood level, was forecast for this evening.

Although communities on the main reaches of the Susquehanna were relieved of flood worries, local flood conditions were caused by smaller streams spilling their banks throughout the area.

Overflowing streams in the vicinity of Lewisburg covered highways, preventing rural school children in at least one section from attending classes. Two streets were closed to traffic in Lewisburg when a small stream bisecting the town went over its banks.

Minor League Clubs Drafting Class B, C And D Players Today

Owners Move Against Bonus Players Ruling

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 5.—(INS)—Thousands of class B, C, and D ballplayers went under the gavel today in the annual Minor League auction.

But the man of the hour at the second session of the annual baseball convention was Vernon Stephens, who knocked in 144 runs for the Boston Red Sox last season and can be had for a battery or a single pitcher or catcher.

The principle item of gossip concerns the destination of the player Boston now deemed expendable.

Yankees Interested
The Yankees may spring a bombshell and bring him to the stadium to play third base or the outfield, if they will fork over a pitcher good enough to please Boston Manager Steve O'Neill.

Already they have lost Whitey Ford to the Army so are just as much in need of moundmen as the Red Sox. But in squeaking by the first three games of the World Series with low kilowatt power they are anxious to recharge.

George Weiss has been sighting his guns on the White Sox Eddie Robinson or Ferris Fain of the A's but with his left hand he is keeping in touch with the Stephens market. The Yankees suspect that even the Sox are not so wealthy in power that they can toss a 144 RBI guy overboard but the Fenway Park folks are apparently convinced that like the 1947 New York Giants they can't win with plain fence busting alone.

Drafting Players
The Boston club has so many swatters that they are trying to find a place in their batting order for Billy Goodman, the league-leading hitter, and are ready to install him at third base should Johnny Pesky move to short-stop to give Lou Boudreau a lift.

Seventy-five high class minor leaguers were drafted yesterday for $270,000 and a hundred more lesser boys may go by late this afternoon. On Wednesday the Minor League solons, more than half of whom are under major ownership of partial dictation, will emit a concerted roar of objection to the inroads of big league television and broadcasting into their territory.

Bonus Rule May Go
No doubt they will throw the bonus rule into the ash can and they will vote whether or not to organize a drive to amend the law to permit a player to refuse or accept a draft call.

No manager could edge through the lobby without being approached by an old pal looking for a coaching, scouting or Minor League managing job. Melvin Ott, Ben Chapman, Billy Herman, Joe White, Rollie Hemisley, and Heinie Manush were just a start of the unemployed list.

Shotten Will Scout
There were dozens of others—Gus Mancuso, who left the Cincinnati Reds, is about to hook on with another team. Billy Jurgens, Cedar Rapids skipper, is apparently headed for Wilkes-Barre with Red Corriden in line to rejoin Charley Dressen in Brooklyn.

Joe Kuhel replaced as Kansas City manager by George Selkirk, has gone into business, and Burt Shotten is retiring except for some part-time scouting duty. Harry Gumbert, Sacramento pitcher, is free to make a deal for himself.

Arizin Climbs In PB Scoring

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(INS)—All-American Paul Arizin is making the grade in professional basketball with a bang.

The former Villanova star scored 76 points for the Philadelphia Warriors in his last three games. It was the top individual performance in the National Basketball Association last week.

And it raised Arizin from the 19th spot in the scoring department to ninth. His season's average of 19 points per game is third in the league.

Mikan Tops
It is still "George" all the way as far as high scoring in the NBA is concerned. George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers continues to set the pace with his 27.3 average as well as in total points with 409.

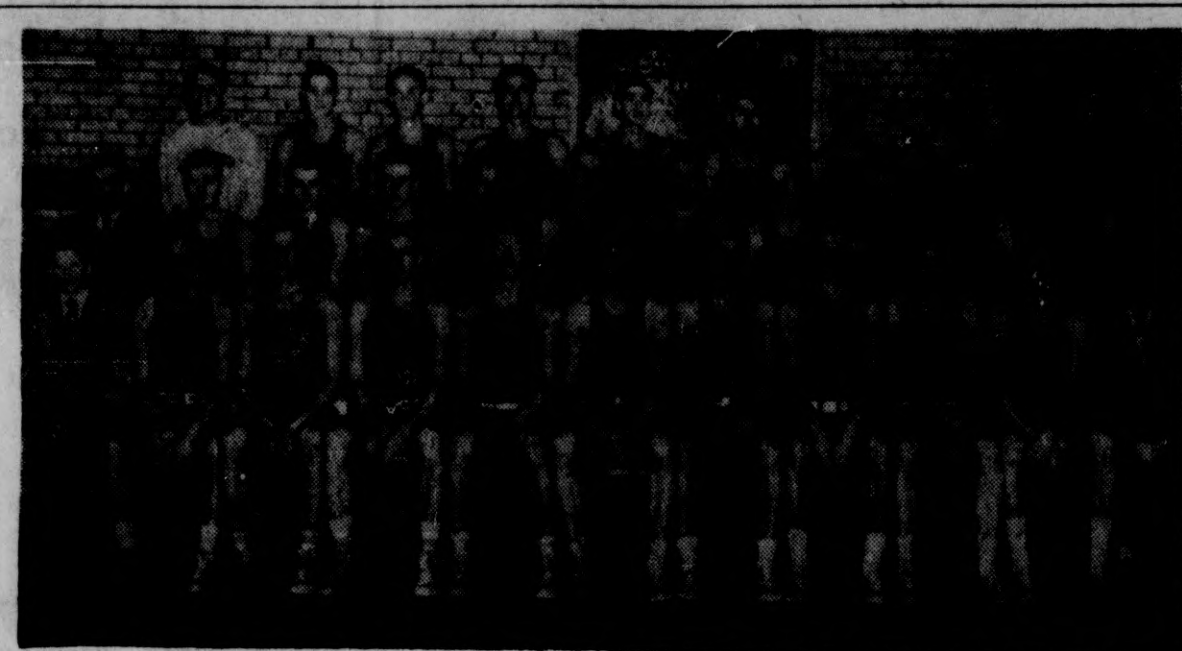

Alex Groza of Indianapolis is second in both departments, averaging 20.7 for a 352 total.

First Double-Header Floor Games Carded
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Philadelphia's double-header basketball season opens tomorrow night with Penn and Villanova playing hosts to Maryland and Tampa, respectively, at Convention Hall.

Howie Dallmar is still experimenting with his Penn squad which beat Scranton 76-59 in its season's opener.

Saturday night will see Temple clash with Muhlenberg, and St. Joseph's face off against Kansas.

New Castle High Releases 1951 Football Card

The Titans will open the home season Saturday night at Westminster gym by meeting the strong Allegheny college quintet. The old gym is being utilized for a few home games. Six big major schools will be played at Farrell high floor until the new gym is completed.

Charles Defends Title In Cincinnati Tonight

CHARLES, THE CHAMPION

BARONE, THE CHALLENGER

By KEN OPSTEIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—Ezzard Charles becomes the hometown boy who made good in rags-to-riches style when he defends his heavyweight championship against Nick Barone of Syracuse, N. Y., tonight in a 15-round fight in Cincinnati.

The match is Charles' first before the homefolks since he became the champion. It is his fifth title risk.

Charles Favored
He is a 6-to-1 favorite to defeat Barone. Charles enters the ring with an advantage in weight, height and reach.

The 29-year-old champion has a five-pound edge on the scales, is two and one-half inches taller than his opponent and possesses a two-inch superiority in arm length.

This is the first time in more than two years of fighting that Charles has not been outwitted. He expects to be at 185 pounds compared to Barone's 180.

Charles proved his stamina in several 15-round bouts. Barone never has fought more than 10 rounds in any of his 52 professional fights but has demonstrated his durability. He has yet to be knocked off his feet.

Predicts 10,000 Gate
Promoter Sam Becker predicts a crowd of 10,000 will pay $50,000.

Cleveland Fight
Draws $61,269 Gate

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Cuban welterweight Kid Gavilan, pointing for a match with champion Ray Robinson, gave away five pounds but scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Tony Janiro last night before 9,342 Cleveland boxing fans.

Gavilan weighed 148 to 153 for his Youngstown, O., foe.

The crowd paid $61,269 to see the benefit ring program.

In other 10-round matches, Brooklyn's Harold Green decided Ernie "Rock" Durando of Bayonne, N. J., and Bob Baker whipped Abel Cestac of Argentina.

Eagles Lose Star To Army Wednesday

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles today had their wings clipped of half-back Toy Ledbetter.

Ledbetter, third best ground gainer for the team, joins the Army tomorrow, and will not play in the grid's finale against the New York Giants at Shibe Park next Sunday.

Coach Earl Greasy Neale picked up Bill Boedeker, on waivers from the Green Bay Packers, to replace him. The 22-year-old Ledbetter has amassed 320 yards for the curtailed season he worked.

Three Grid Stars Will Be Honored

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's Monday Quarterbacks yesterday chose Nick Bolokovac of Pitt, Ralph Longmore of Duquesne and Carnegie Tech's Nick Simic as the outstanding football players at their colleges during the season.

The three lads will be honored at the club's annual banquet next January 22.

Duquesne Trounces West Virginia Tech

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Duquesne opened its season last night with a 63-48 victory over West Virginia Tech in Pittsburgh.

Big Hank Kuzma, the Dukes Junior center from Steelton, Pa., led all scorers with 18 points.

Ray Korody, Greensburg, a three-letter winner and only senior on the team, will be captain of Juniata college's basketball squad.

Kodory is also an outstanding intercollegiate golfer.

Oakland Sportsmen To Meet Wednesday

The Oakland Sportsmen's Club, Inc., will have a regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the club, it was announced today by President Frank Zajac.

Plans for the children's Christmas party will be outlined. Many other important matters will also be discussed, including the winter feeding of wild game. Refreshments will be served.

Franklin To Play Bessemer Today

Benjamin Franklin junior high school meets Bessemer junior high this afternoon at Bessemer in its 1950-51 basketball opener.

It was reported Monday that Washington would play Bessemer today, but the Little Presidents are not scheduled to meet the Cementer juniors until Friday afternoon at Washington.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

TATE NAMED DEFENSIVE TACKLE BY RICE

FIVE PLAYERS from the East were selected for the 1950 All America Football Team picked by Grantland Rice and the Football Writers Association of America for the issue of Look magazine released today. They are: Elmer Stout and J. Dan Foldberg (Army); Robert Ward (Maryland); and Holland Donan and Redmond Finney (Princeton).

Convinced that "two-platoon football is here, perhaps to stay," Look names 22 players, the first time that an All America has cited both a defense team and an offense. Rice pointed out: "It was illogical to continue to choose one team of 11 men. It made much more sense to pick an offensive platoon and a defensive platoon."

Easterners chosen for honorable mention are: Bob Blaik, Herb Johnson, J. D. Kimmel, and Al Pollard (Army); Gerald Audette (Columbia); John Clayton (Dartmouth); Dick Doheny (Fordham); Reds Bagnell and Bernard Lemonick (Pennsylvania); George Chandler and Brad Glass (Princeton); and Bob Spears (Yale).

Relationships have been renewed with Youngstown East, Erie East and Johnstown. Latrobe, John Adams and Erie Strong Vincent were not re-scheduled.

Youngstown East Back
Both Youngstown East and Erie East are back on the Cane schedule after a two year's absence, having both played the Red and Black in 1948. New Castle has not met Johnstown since 1940.

The 1951 schedule includes seven home games and three away games.

Navy Simply Poured It On Luckless Army

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
 (L.N.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—How did Navy, a football has-been at the tail end of a suicide schedule, commit murder by wrecking Army 14 to 2 in the upset of the year?

This was the score, once again: Navy 14, Army 2. Believe that or not.

Down went Army. Army, the winner of 17 straight games, Army, unbeaten in 28 straight, Army, the three-touchdown favorite, Army, the mighty mauler. Straight down, hammered and bent by a Navy team gone crazy.

Truman Saw It
 President Truman, sitting on the Navy side of packed Municipal Stadium in Philadelphia, saw it happen. So did 100,000 others.

How did it happen?
 You start with Ed Ederlatz, coaching for the first year.

You add a Navy line that charged like seven coiled springs.
 You throw in a heady guy named Bob Zastrow, a take charge quarterback who owned and operated a split-T formation that drove Army's famous defense bats.

You take a pass defense that humbled Bob Blaik, the Army coach's son, until he was distraught.

Navy had not won a game with Army since 1943. They tied 21-21 in 1948, with Mr. Truman on the Navy side as he was Saturday, and people thought it was a miracle.

Navy had won only two games in eight previous starts in 1950.

Army hadn't failed to win since the Navy tie two years ago; hadn't been beaten since the Notre Dame game of 1947; hadn't gone without a touchdown since 1946.

Lucky Safety
 Army was lucky to get two points. The Cadets caught the darling Midshipman Zastrow trying to pass from his own end zone in the third period, with Navy already ahead 14 to 0 as the result of two second-quarter scores. So Army got its safety.

But Army couldn't even get a consolation touchdown from the three-yard line in the final minutes.

Navy had it as early as the half-time intermission.

PRICE ISN'T EVERYTHING!

When looking for an automobile, either new or used, do not let price alone influence you. The quality of the car deserves much consideration, but more than anything else, consider the selling dealer. The business "record" of the dealer is very important. His policies and his ability and willingness to stand behind his merchandise and agreements AFTER the SALE are what actually determines the soundness of the transaction.

We are determined to see that you are satisfied to the utmost; and we have the experience and equipment to do just that. Why not give us a chance to show you how we do business?

Mayor Haven And Council Express Their Appreciation For Cooperation In Storm

Mayor John F. Haven, for himself and in behalf of councilmanic colleagues, issued a public letter of thanks for the cooperation of the community in overcoming the snow avalanche which fell here recently. His letter follows:

New Castle, Pa.,
December 4, 1950
TO THE CITIZENS OF
NEW CASTLE:

This City, together with all of its neighbors, has just come through one of those catastrophes which Nature sometimes inflicts upon mankind. On Friday, November 24, 1950, it began to snow. On Saturday morning all of Western Pennsylvania was snowbound.

We ought first to acknowledge our thanks to Almighty God that with all the bitterness of the sudden cold, coming with the snow, His Mercy saved us from the hopeless misery, which might have befallen us, in the form of fire, pestilence or flood, while we struggled to unwrap ourselves from the snow.

This one demonstration of the power of Nature to do damage caused much material loss; but with it there came a demonstration of great spiritual value to all, because it has shown so abundantly, in a time of hardship and universal need, that almost everybody in this City and County are folks of good will—courageous, unselfish and full of brotherly love and kindness.

It is fitting, therefore, that I as the elected executive of this organized American community, should, as I have been instructed to do by my colleagues in the Council of this City, now that our streets are clear again and our normal way of life made possible, address to you what all of you feel of appreciation for the kind neighbors you have in New Castle and Lawrence County.

I would like very much to mention by name every person who gave unselfish service to his community and every organization which contributed to the general welfare in the past week. The reason why I cannot now do that is simply that all of you were wonderful and so many people and organizations cannot possibly be individually spoken of.

We were so well served by the New Castle News and Radio Station WKST that I am sure everyone wonders what we would have done without these services. With the marvelous means of communication which the New Castle News and WKST gave us, we were able to engage and coordinate the willing hands of the American Red Cross, the contractors and owners of heavy machinery, the officers of the County, the Bus company, the dealers in coal, the bakers, the milk men, and all others who contributed to the need which was general among us. The community is grateful to all of these people and organizations.

The Council and I desire to commend especially the members of the Police and Fire Departments and the employees of the Street, Sewer, Garbage and Park Departments for the long hours, hard work and intelligent, loyal service they gave to the City during that week of such trying conditions.

May I not, therefore, thank all of you, who call New Castle home, and remind you of how good it made us feel last week to find so much good will around and about us. I am sure we were glad to be residents of New Castle.

Sincerely your Mayor,
JOHN F. HAVEN.

County Is Thanked For Aiding City In Recent Emergency

Council adopted a resolution Monday formally thanking the commissioners of Lawrence County and employees for not only the commission's contribution to money toward removal of the snow-bound city, but also for the employees' work.

FRANKFURT, Dec. 5.—(INS)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer gave the cold shoulder

to an east German proposal to negotiate German unification and ban remilitarization. The east German proposal was made by Premier Otto Grotewohl who suggested immediate unification talks in a message sent to Adenauer Friday. The message was disclosed by the Communist news agency Adn.

Political circles in Bonn called it a "propaganda trick." The proposal called for a peace treaty to be negotiated on a basis of equality between east and western Germany although west Germany has more than double the population of the eastern zone.
